

CARLO GAMBINO

Bitter fight for leadership of organized crime seen

Carlo Gambino, 'boss of all bosses,' dies

MASSAPEQUA, N.Y. (AP) — Carlo "Don Carlo" Gambino, the erupted "boss of all bosses" of organized crime and a prototype for the fictional "Godfather," died at his mansion here Friday at the age of 74.

Gambino's death was ascribed to natural causes. He had a history of heart trouble since 1958 and had been in and out of hospitals in recent years. He died in his sleep.

Authorities and organized crime sources say his death was expected to lead to a bitter mob struggle for leadership of organized crime. Gambino had seized the reins in 1969, after the death in federal prison of Vito "Don Vitone" Genovese.

The stocky, gray-haired mobster, who took over as head of New York's five families following the death in 1969 of Vito Genovese, had been under deportation orders since 1967. A series of appeals culminated in 1970 in a U.S. Supreme Court decision letting the order stand. But by then Gambino's health made deportation questionable.

"It would break my heart if I had to leave this country," he once declared. "I like it here."

Besides his $100,000 mansion here, Gambino maintained a home in Brooklyn.

Suave, with a firm handshake and a courtly bow, Gambino was believed to have been a prototype of the fictional "Godfather."

Born in Palermo, Sicily, Aug. 24, 1902, Gambino entered the United States in Norfolk, Va., in 1921 as a stowaway. The deportation order was based on his illegal entry.

As he worked his way up in the mob, Gambino was said to have gained control of Brooklyn waterfront, construction, labor, gambling and loan shark rackets.

He served 22 months in prison in 1937 for operating a still near Philadelphia, and his record showed six other arrests for bootlegging.

During World War II, according to the late informer Joe Valachi, Gambino made over $1 million on OPA ration stamps, having them stolen by underlings or buying them illegally from OPA representatives.

Gambino's most recent major brush with the law came in 1970 when he was arrested on a federal charge of conspiring to hijack an armored truck carrying $6 million in cash during its twice weekly run to deliver new bills and pick up old ones from Chase Manhattan branch banks in New York City.

His role, the FBI said, was to provide cars for the robbery "and a means to dispose of the money."

Gambino posted $75,000 bail after declaring: "I'm innocent from this accusation."

The case has yet to come to trial.

Gambino succeeded Albert Anastasia as head of one of the city's five Mafia families after the latter's murder in 1957. A Senate committee heard testimony that Anastasia was rubbed out in a conspiracy involving Gambino and Genovese.

There had been reports in recent years of a gradual ebbing of Gambino's power over the far-flung underworld organization. In 1970, a joint state legislative committee on crime accused his underboss, Aniello "O'Neill" Dellacroce of seeking Gambino's ouster. Dellacroce refused to answer committee questions.

There were also reports that as his health failed, Gambino himself wanted to step down. There were published reports earlier this year that he had been overridden in his opposition to enlarging the five New York Crime familes. This was taken as a sign of his waning influence.

However, Manhattan Dist. Atty. Robert Morgenthau said last year that "Gambino has not retired."

Morgenthau called Gambino a "shadow figure operating behind the scenes" in connection with a multimillion dollar loan shark operation in the garment district, involving among 14 defendants Louis "Gene" Rucci, married to a Gambino niece.

Mondale, Dole clash, hurl barbs in debate

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Vice-presidential rivals Walter Mondale and Bob Dole snapped at each other on government spending, Eastern Europe and restoration of public faith in a debate that brought their campaign, one-liners and all, into the nation's living rooms Friday night.

Sometimes-nasty jabs at the opposition punctuated a recital of familiar campaign positions by both men, who essentially were stand-ins for their ticket leaders.

Mondale accused President Ford of "one of the most outrageous statements ever made by a president in recent history" when Ford said in the last presidential debate that Poland was free of Soviet domination.

Dole repeatedly said he didn't know what Jimmy Carter stood for, claiming "Carter has three positions on everything; that's why they're having three debates."

They most frequently turned to economic arguments, Dole attacking Mondale as a free spender and the Democrat ticking off needs he said Republicans aren't meeting.

Though their delivery was quiet, almost informal, one-line barbs flew back and forth throughout the 78-minute nationally broadcast event, which ran three minutes longer than scheduled.

For example:

Dole: "I couldn't understand why Gov. Carter was in Playboy magazine. But he was. We'll give him the bunny vote."

Mondale: "I think Sen. Dole has richly earned his reputation as a hatchet man tonight by saying World War II and the Korean War were Democratic wars."

Dole: "I just wish Gov. Carter had a foreign policy. He doesn't have any."

Mondale: "Sen. Dole has probably the worst record on supporting tax loopholes" in the Senate.

After the debate, Mondale said "I feel good about it," adding that he thought Dole had spoken in "negative terms," avoided substantive answers and looked backwards.

Carter telephoned Mondale to tell him he was proud of his performance. "You didn't get small, you didn't get mean, you didn't get twisted in your approach."

President Ford called Dole from Ford's hotel in Joliet, Ill., and told his running mate: "You were superb, you were confident. You hit hard, but hit fairly. You thought of a lot of very effective points."

Dole said he thought he had won the debate and declared: "I thought we'd have tougher questions." He said Ford told him "I did a great job." Dole said he got a similar call from Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The Republican candidate said he started getting bored near the end of the debate, especially "when Sen. Mondale was talking."

But Carter told his running mate on the telephone: "Fritz, you did great, man." He told Mondale that the most difficult decision of his life after deciding whom to marry was choosing a running mate. "I've never been so sure as tonight (that) I made the right choice. I was really proud of you."

Carter added, "It showed tonight you're completely qualified to be President. I'm just glad I'm not running against you."

Democratic national chairman Robert Strauss said "Dole's performance tonight probably did President Ford and the Republican Party a great disservice."

Mondale stood straight at his lectern, often gesturing sharply with his right arm. Dole leaned on his left arm much of the time, adopting a relaxed air and even observing at the start that "tonight may be sort of a fun evening." By the end, he was referring to the home audience as "all those in the viewing audience who may still be with us."

Though Dole said the two senators would be friends after the debate and after the election, their acrimony rose to its zenith when Dole ticked off a list of the century's wars, the number of casualties from the fighting and blamed them on the Democrats.

Moments later, Mondale, obviously angry, shot back a question: Wouldn't the Republicans have fought the Nazis in World War II?

BEFORE THE BATTLE

Sen. Walter Mondale, left, and Sen. Robert Dole shake hands before beginning the Vice Presidential debate Friday.

The charges: from Watergate to wars and then to 'hatchet men'

HOUSTON, TEX (AP) — Democratic vice presidential candidate Walter Mondale said Friday night his opponent, Sen. Bob Dole, "has richly earned his reputation as a hatchet man tonight."

The bitter charge came during their nationally broadcast debate after Dole drew an analogy between Monday's concern about the Watergate scandal to the Vietnam and Korean wars and World Wars I and II.

All of these were "Democrat wars," Dole said.

The issue arose when Dole was asked about his earlier charge that Mondale's concerns about Watergate marked a "mudslinging" phase of the campaign.

"It is an appropriate topic," he said, "but not a very good issue, anymore than Vietnam, the Korean War, World War II, World War I are good issues ... that is all behind us."

Dole then said he had added up all the Americans killed in wars under Democratic presidents and the total exceeded the population of Detroit.

It was at this point that Mondale characterized Dole as a hatchet man.

He said these wars had bipartisan support. Regarding Vietnam, Mondale said the Republicans kept the fighting going and it was the Democratic Congress that finally ended that war and prevented a new war in Angola.

The vice presidential candidates also traded charges on the Watergate scandal.

Mondale said Dole and President Ford supported former President Richard M. Nixon "up to the last."

"My opponent introduced a resolution to slam the door shut on the Ervin investigation," Mondale said in reference to the Senate Watergate committee chaired by former Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C.

Dole said that "Watergate is behind us," and added: "I know it strikes a responsive chord in some to kick Richard Nixon around."

Dole noted the stroke suffered earlier this year by Nixon's wife Pat and said, "If Democrats want to keep up Watergate, let them play that game. It's the only game they know."

Polls show new gains by Carter

By The Associated Press

Two national political polls say Jimmy Carter, reversing a downward slide in popularity among registered voters, widened his lead over President Ford after their second televised debate.

George Gallup Sr. said his latest survey, conducted between Oct. 8 and 11 after the candidates' foreign policy debate in San Francisco, showed Carter leading Ford by six percentage points, 48 to 42 per cent. Gallup's previous survey, taken just prior to the second debate, showed Ford had drawn to within two points of his Democratic opponent, with Carter leading 47 to 45.

A second poll, conducted by CBS News and the New York Times, showed the independent vote returning to Carter's column after a shift to Ford following the first presidential debate.

The CBS-Times survey also reported midwestern Roman Catholics returning to the Carter camp following an initial flirtation with Ford. The CBS-Times poll of 1,761 registered voters showed Carter with a 60-40 margin in the South and a 58-42 edge in the Midwest. But in the populous East and in the West, Carter registered uncertain 51-49 margins, according to the CBS-Times survey.

The closeness of the race in the West was also illustrated in the results of the California Poll, a statewide telephone survey of 1,230 registered voters on Oct. 7 and 8.

That poll showed Ford leading Carter 44 per cent to 43 in the state, a gain of four points by Ford and a loss of one point by Carter since the previous survey in late September.

Kelley retracts talk rapping news media

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley late Friday backed away from a prepared speech in which he had threatened to end bureau cooperation with news reporters he described as hostile.

In a statement issued by the Justice Department, Kelley said he was retracting the speech because it "appears to give the wrong impression and does not truly reflect my feelings about the press."

The text of the speech, intended for delivery to the New Mexico Press Association in Albuquerque Friday night, was distributed to reporters here Thursday.

In the text, Kelley accused some members of the national news media of reporting FBI misdeeds unfairly and of attempting to discredit the bureau.

"If a journalist continually displays an obsession to support his own hostile notions about our agency, or to support a boiler-plate editorial policy without regard for objectivity, then he cannot expect to continue to enjoy any sort of productive relationship with us," Kelley said in the prepared speech.

In the later statement, Kelley said he is "casting aside most of the prepared text." He said he would "speak from the heart, but without what I now recognize could be misinterpreted."

Kelley said he had intended in the speech "to point out the need for an understanding of our problems and the need to explore methods whereby we could join together in an effort to raise the FBI to a higher level of productivity."

Referring to news coverage of FBI wrongdoing, currently the target of two department criminal investigations, Kelley said "past activities have been spotlighted, and rightfully so."

He continued, "We seek not to blame others for our plight, but to enlist their help in our renaissance."

That concern may have "unduly intruded upon our reason and give rise to rhetoric which too harshly assessed the blame on the press," he acknowledged.

As for past misdeeds in the FBI, Kelley said "we believe our present bureau is a new, viable, productive and at the same time, constitutionally well-grounded organization."

Castro renounces three-year-old pact with U.S. against hijacking

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro announced Friday his government is renouncing a three-year-old agreement against hijacking with the United States.

He said he acted because of what he termed American complicity in the crash of a Cuban passenger plane last week. In a Havana broadcast monitored here, Castro said the crash was a "terrorist action" resulting from American hostility toward Cuba.

Responding promptly to Castro's announcement, the State Department said it regrets and deplores the Cuban action. It categorically denied any American responsibility for the crash.

Spokesman Robert Funseth said the Cuban government will be held strictly responsible for any hijackings which result from suspension of the agreement.

Castro noted that the agreement includes a six-month cancellation clause and that, accordingly, Cuba would adhere to its provisions only until next April 15.

The accord, signed on Feb. 15, 1973, was aimed principally at putting an end to the rash of hijackings of U.S. planes to Cuba. There have been no successful hijackings involving Cuba since.

Questioned by reporters, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger called the Cuban action "unfriendly and irresponsible."

The United States, Kissinger said, "condemns terrorism as an instrument of foreign policy and does not engage in it."

Other officials said they could not rule out the possibility that Cuban exiles may have been responsible in this case.

The Air Canada DC8, on loan to the Cuban national airline Cubana, went down about 11 miles off the coast of Barbados, killing 73 persons. Reports at the time said the plane crashed after an explosion on board; the United States has offered assistance to Barbados in its investigation.

On the night of the crash, an anonymous telephone caller told the Miami Herald in Spanish that "El Condor," a name used by anti-Castro Cuban exiles, had planted a bomb aboard the plane.

Authorities in Venezuela announced Friday the arrest of Cuban exile leader Orlando Bosch and several other persons in connection with the crash. Bosch is a resident of the United States and U.S. officials are seeking his return from Venezuela.

They said Bosch has been convicted for bombings in the Miami area and has violatd the terms of his parole.

Physicians to be faced with more accusations

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The reconstituted board that oversees the medical profession in California expects to file twice as many accusations against doctors this year than the old board did in 1975.

That was the report Friday from Sherwin Memel, a Los Angeles area attorney and president of the Board of Medical Quality Assurance. He and four other board members briefed reporters at a Capitol news conference.

During the first six months of 1976, the board filed 137 accusations of misdeeds against doctors, compared to 123 during all of the previous year, said Memel.

"We expect to file 300 accusations this year," he said.

In 1974, he said, there were 1,455 cases opened, compared to 1,932 in 1975 and 1,216 during the first six months of this year.

It takes from three to 13 months to finish a case, he said, but the 1975 law that enlarged the board and changed its named from Board of Medical Examiners requires investigations to be completed in 90 days.

"That's virtually impossible with the staff we have now," he said, adding that the board will be able to hire 40 full-time investigators Jan. 1.

They have used investigators from other state agencies in the past.

Tunney, Maddox, Hayakawa all at work

Politicians busy... criticizing

Sen. John Tunney criticized the Ford administration's housing policy, Lester Maddox criticized Jimmy Carter and S.I. Hayakawa criticized professional politicians during a busy political day Friday.

"One of my most important qualifications is that I don't have any," Hayakawa said to emphasize his non-political background as he campaigned against Tunney in San Francisco.

Maddox, the American Independent Party presidential candidate, was also in the state Friday, as was Carter's wife, Rosalynn.

Tunney was in the San Fernando Valley, where he called President Ford's housing policy "an utter disaster based on knowing little and doing less.

"At present 85 per cent of the families in the United States cannot afford a new home," the Democratic lawmaker told a labor luncheon.

"A large part of the slide is due to the administration's conscious decision to ignore the plight of the middle-income family seeking a home, as well as its disastrous management of the economy."

He said the federal government should "take the lead for a new housing policy by creating programs to subsidize middle-income mortgage payments and downpayments.

"It should also move to liberalize the money supply to insure that mortgage interest rates come down to reasonable levels."

Maddox was also in San Francisco, where he said Carter was his "soul brother" until Carter succeeded him as governor of Georgia.

Maddox said Carter praised him during Carter's campaign but then turned on him after he was elected.

That "shows how unstable" Carter is, said Maddox, who also described the Democratic presidential candidate's national platform as "socialist."

Mrs. Carter was in Bakersfield, where she toured a mental health center and called for a comprehensive national health insurance program that would cover mental illness.

"Nothing has been done for mental health nationally since the Kennedy administation," she said.

PLENTY OF PUMPKINS — Darla Cunha, 8, of Half Moon Bay, Calif., hoists a big pumpkin which she hopes she can turn into a Jack O' Lantern by the time the town celebrates its pumpkin festival on Oct. 23-24. The festival is held annually just before Halloween.

FCC agrees tentatively to allow 40-channel CBs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission tentatively has voted not to delay the Jan. 1 date for sale of the expanded 40-channel citizens bands, it was learned Friday.

Raymond E. Spence, the FCC's chief engineer, disclosed the vote to a reporter. He said he would announce it publicly at a meeting of the Communications Equipment Distributors Association in Colorado Springs, Colo., Saturday.

Spence said that a final vote probably will be taken Monday.

The American Broadcasting Companies Inc. and the Association of Maximum Telecasters Inc. sought a delay so that the FCC might reconsider the expansion from 23 channels. They contend that despite technical protection required by the FCC for the new sets, the 40-channel models will create more interference with television reception, especially channel 6.

Some dealers had petitioned the FCC for a delay in order to allow them to clear their shelves of the current 23-channel sets, which will still be usable.

Sources said the seven commissioners were split on the issues, but on Thursday four voted not to delay the Jan. 1 starting date. That vote, however, was not final Nailing down the Jan. 1 date would allow the CB set makers and distributors to firm up plans for getting the expanded-channel sets on the store shelves. It also will permit CBers to know for sure when they can get the more up-to-date sets.

The jump from 23 to 40 channels was ordered on Aug. 4 because of the millions of CBers jamming the airwaves, especially in urban areas.

100 die in 3 years; officials study state hospitals closely

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Stung by reports of more than 100 deaths in three years at Camarillo State Hospital, state health officials announced stepped-up monitoring of all state mental hospitals Friday.

Ten investigators are being assigned to study every death at the hospitals in the last three years that wasn't obviously due to old age or illness, said Ray Procunier, program chief at the state Health Department.

In addition, the department will not only refer every future death at one of the 11 hospitals to the local coroner, but also conduct its own examination of every case, Procunier said.

In the past, only deaths that weren't obviously due to natural causes were referred to coroners.

"I don't think this implies that the coroners are not doing a good job. It's not the coroners' job to see if employes are negligent," said the former state prisons chief, who was assigned last week to run most day-to-day operations at the Health Department.

Ventura County Dist. Atty. Stanley Trom has said the Camarillo deaths included cases of drug overdoses, strangulation and gross negligence. Officials say he is studying possible criminal charges in six of the deaths.

The state investigation will also center on Metropolitan State Hospital in Norwalk, near Los Angeles, where department officials said employes who said they knew of abuses of patients reported receiving threats.

The reports over the last 12 to 18 months included anonymous letters and phone calls, the scratching of a "KKK" on one employe's car, and delivery of a noose to a woman employe, said Don Miller, in charge of the mental hospitals for the Health Department.

Miller said the cases were turned over to local police.

He also said the death rate at Camarillo wasn't abnormally high for a hospital with many elderly and ill patients. He said he thought staffing levels and ward conditions at Camarillo had improved over the past year.

Walnut man, 45, to face charges linked to L.A. vocational schools

A Walnut man has been indicted by a Los Angeles County Grand Jury, along with four other persons, on charges of conspiracy, bribery and securities fraud in the operation of six vocational schools in Los Angeles during 1973, according to United States Attorney William D. Keller.

Keller identified the Walnut resident as William Fred Peters, 45.

Peters was also indicted on two separate counts of tax evasion by the grand jury, said Keller.

Others indicted in the operation of the West Coast Trade Schools were Franklin Peter Fisher, David Mansfield Carman, O.A. Dameron and James Francis Hoffe. Hoffe was said to be a former official of the United States Office of Education in San Francisco.

The indictments allege that Hoffe was bribed by the others to make favorable recommendations on behalf of the trade schools, which enabled them to receive in excess of $5 million in government student loans.

In the separate indictment, Peters is accused of understating his taxable income by over $191,000 and underpaying his income taxes by over $101,000.

If convicted, he could receive up to 10 years in prison and a fine of $20,000.

Brown in debt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Edmund Brown Jr.'s brief and unsuccessful presidential campaign is $252,000 in debt, partly because it failed to get large-scale federal matching funds, federal records show.

A financial statement filed with the Federal Election Commission says the Brown for President Committee reduced its debt from more than $300,000 at the end of July to $252,780 on Sept. 30.

The committee reported spending slightly over $2 million.

Hearing is set for Oct. 29 in grocer slaying

The preliminary hearing of robbery and murder charges against a 16-year-old youth in the slaying July 26 of Pomona grocer Howard R. Reese, 65, of Anaheim, has been continued to Oct. 29 in Pomona Municipal Court.

The defendant is Miguel Perez, of 1333 W. 11th St. A second suspect in the murder, a 15-year-old Diamond Bar youth, already has pleaded guilty to the charges in Juvenile Court and is awaiting sentencing.

The victim was assistant manager of the Lucky Star Market at 1600 W. Mission Blvd. Investigators said he was taken from the store late that night, robbed and shot in the head before his body was dumped into a ravine south of Claude Osteen Park in southwest Pomona.

Detectives said Reese was killed because he recognized the robbers and they feared he would identify them.

Perez recently was declared unfit for consideration as a juvenile at a hearing before Juvenile Court Referee Pete Smith in Los Angeles who ordered Perez tried as an adult.

Home hit by blaze

Fire heavily damaged a mobile home in the Alta Laguna Mobile Home Park in Alta Loma Friday afternoon.

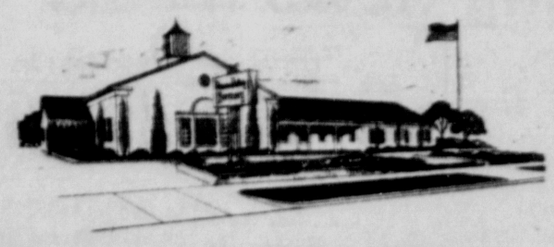

Firemen said the blaze broke out at about 4:45 p.m. Friday in the kitchen or living room area of the double-wide mobile home.

Three engine companies from the Foothill Fire District controlled the blaze in about 15 minutes, but not before the interior of the home was gutted.

Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

Occupants of the home were not at the location at the time of the blaze.

Woman gets $515,000 in settlement

A 32-year-old Claremont woman from Uruguay has been awarded a $515,000 judgment in Riverside Superior Court for a car accident which made her a paraplegic.

The verdict was handed down Friday by Judge John E. Hewes against truck-driver Richard Allen Simpson of Santa Ana, and his employer, Murray Products, Inc.

The accident took place on the Riverside Freeway on March 26, 1974.

According to the testimony, Mrs. Susan Palmero, a recent arrival from Uruguay, was driving her car east on the Riverside Freeway, when she was struck by Simpson's truck from the side. She lost control of the wheel and turned her car over.

As a result of the accident she lost the use of her legs.

Judge Hewes included about $45,000 in his judgment for medical expenses. Mrs. Palmero was represented by Claremont attorney Herb Hafif.

Check arrives after 7 years

HOPKINTON, Mass. (AP) — A paycheck for $127.82 won't exactly turn Bob Baker's life around, but it's welcome after seven years' delay.

Seven years ago, Baker left his hometown of Sherrodsville, Ohio, with everything but his last week's paycheck.

Timken Roller Bearing Co. of Canton, Ohio, had promised to mail the week's salary to Baker's forwarding address. His parents called the firm three or four times asking for the check. Each time they were told it had been sent.

Baker's parents continued the vigil until a registered letter for Robert Baker arrived several weeks ago.

He's anxious to try his fish

Danny couldn't eat, so doctors built esophagus

MARTINEZ, Calif. (AP) — Little Danny Torres eagerly awaits the day he can eat a fish he caught recently, but the prize stays frozen while doctors check the results of surgery that built the boy an esophagus.

Danny, 7, and a twin sister Danielle were born prematurely. Danielle was all right, but Danny's esophagus was incomplete and he also suffered from breathing problems.

The tiny infant's first surgery came within 36 hours of birth, and by the time he reached six weeks he had been in the operating room four times. He has been hospitalized more than 30 times in his brief life, including bouts with pneumonia, diarrhea and gastritis.

"We wanted to repair his esophagus for a long time," said Danny's doctor, a pediatric surgeon who requested his name not be used. "But because he never seemed to grow we decided to wait."

So Danny, who weighs a scant 25 pounds, went through the first seven years of his life on a liquid diet fed to him through a tube. Air flows to his lungs through a tracheostomy.

"But through it all he coped really well," said Christine Torres, the youngster's mother, as she prepared Friday to take him home from Children's Hospital Medical Center in nearby Oakland.

"When kids first meet him, they look at him strangely," she said of her son's problems living in a normal world with tubes and artificial airways in his nose and neck. "But then they start to play and everything's alright. I hate to brag but he's a loveable kid."

Finally, the delicate six-hour operation was scheduled for Oct. 4.

"We used the left side of his stomach to form a tube which runs underneath his sternum and hooks to the end of his esophagus," Danny's surgeon said. "He's on a liquid diet now but by next week he should be eating solid food without large chunks in it."

"It's a very delicate procedure," the doctor added. "It has to be put together just right or it will leak."

The physician said the problem is not unusual, but the gap in the esophagus usually is small enough to be closed soon after birth.

Danny's chances for a normal future "are excellent, providing the tube functions as I expect," his doctor said. "He's a superb patient. He's very intelligent and I'm sure he understands everything that has happened to him."

Open house today at 'new' Claremont city hall

By GEORGE MacLAREN
PB Staff Writer

Bright orange carpets and drapes and cocoa and coffee-colored woodwork as well as individualized wallpaper in each office will welcome visitors to the newly-remodeled Claremont city hall today from noon to 3 p.m. when the city holds open house.

Totalcost of the rehabilitation and an addition will come to about $150,000, according to City Manager Norman King.

"I estimate, however," King said, "that a new city hall would cost us a minimum of $1 million."

Most funds for the project which began in February will come from federal revenue sharing money.

This week city personnel moved to offices which King feels will be adequate for several years.

Because of the remodeling, the city council has had to hold meetings either at the Claremont Library or the Baseline Recreation Center, because the council chamber had been converted to offices for the county building inspector and the secretaries of the public works and planning departments on a temporary basis.

The original city hall and police station built at Second Street and Harvard Avenue were constructed in 1948 when Claremont had 4,000 people.

The city hall was built around the chamber of commerce building which had been erected in 1930 on city-owned land.

The new addition of 1,600 square feet along the west side of the building will allow for construction of second-floor offices, if that ever becomes necessary.

The city was able to incorporate into the city hall functions the chamber of commerce building and the police station.

The chamber building contains King's office, a conference room and a mayor's office.

The personnel department has moved its operation into a remodeled police station.

King said that he feels architect Fred McDowell has been able to retain the basic feeling of the old building with its traditional early California and Spanish architecture.

"The functional layout of the building has been done well, " he said. "We have been suffering the past 15 years from lack of space. Now we have a more efficient use of what we have. What we have done is more preferable to having put up a new building."

As to the coordinated colors throughout the building, King said he feels that interior designer Bonnie Abbott of LynLee Designs has been able to get away from the standard government dark green.

Mrs. Abbott explained that she wanted to combine the old flavor of the arches and Spanish tile with bright new colors and materials on the market.

"I wanted to get away from the normal institutional look seen in many government buildings, so I used many colors and geometric and graphic designs in wallpapers," she said.

"I wanted to bring the outdoors in," she commented and explained how she combined the bright orange (kumquat) in carpeting with dark browns (coffee) in woodwork, cocoa on doors, white walls, and attractive wallpapering on selected walls.

Mrs. Abbott chose orange for drapes, which are very loose weave, serve as a sun screen, but let in the light, and at the same time hide the barrenness of the parking lot from the city employe and a customer with whom he might be working.

Because the planning and engineering departments need wall space for maps and drawings, Mrs. Abbott called for a vinyl wall paper over cork.

"That can be used effectively for a tack board because the material doesn't show holes," she explained.

Since she feels the city hall looks somewhat like a mission, Mrs. Abbott put a Spanish tile sheet vinyl in the customer entrance to city hall.

Staying with local firms, Mrs. Abbott went to the Woodworks on Foothill Boulevard for attractive wood desks and chairs for King's and Deputy City Manager Paul Brotzman's offices.

The old public entrance with its two separate walkways to city hall has become a new public entrance with a Spanish tile-stamped sidewalk leading directly to the building.

Those applying for jobs may use the personnel department entrance off Second Street.

City council members and staff members will be available Saturday to answer questions of visitors.

Prime contractor for the remodeling was Reuben Meisch of Meisch Bros Inc., of Claremont.

Tentative approval for bingo is granted

An ordinance that will permit bingo games by charitable organizations in San Bernardino County has won tentative approval from the Board of Supervisors.

The supervisors also rejected this week a proposal that bingo license applications be reviewed by fire officials and Environmental Improvement Agency departments. This came in spite of a warning that the county may be liable if a fire or health or safety defect caused death or injury in a bingo hall.

The license fee will be $28 and apparently would cover processing costs by the county.

Supervisors will require that organizations conduct no more than 10 bingo sessions a month, with sessions not to exceed five hours' duration. Games would be prohibited between the hours of 2 and 6 a.m.

The ordinance, with restrictions added by the board, will be up for final adoption next week on second reading. The law would put into effect the local option to allow bingo, approved by voters statewide in June.

In other business, supervisors have rejected a proposal for a county energy commission despite a plea by Supervisor James Mayfield of Apple Valley.

Mayfield got no support for his proposal to form a commission to promote development of alternative energy resources in the county.

He said a commission is needed to attract alternative energy projects such as a $100 million solar tower proposed near Barstow, and for the county to take significant steps in energy development.

Other supervisors opposed the plan because of excessive costs and demands on the county staff.

Chairman Dennis Hansberger noted the county has an "overabundance of committees and commissions" draining off staff time. He said it would cost "time and money" for a new commission.

An energy commission is not high enough on current county priority lists, said Hansberger.

Money for YMCA activities will be raised by each rider securing pledges for each mile ridden. Prizes and free hamburgers, courtesy of In-N'-Out Burgers will be provided. For registration, interested persons should contact their YMCA in Pomona, Claremont, La Verne, San Dimas, Diamond Bar or Walnut. More than 400 riders of all ages are expected to participate.

Halloween films will be shown at library

Films for Halloween will be offered for the whole family Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the Pomona Public Library.

The films are "Winter of the Witch" starring Hermoine Gingold as a not-so-wicked witch, and "Where the Wild Things Are" based on a story Maurice Sendak.

Other events next week at the library are:

Crafts on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Laurel and Hardy films, entitled "Dirty Work" and "Men of War" Thursday at 7 p.m.

Children's activities include bedtime story hour for preschoolers Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Movies for preschoolers will be presented Tuesday at 10:30 a.m.

Stories for preschoolers Wednesday at 10:30 a.m.

Older children may participate in the TV Club on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 4 p.m.

Scarey stories will be told by candlelight Friday at 3:30 p.m.

And a special program featuring a spokesman from the Pomona Humane Society will be presented Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. The subject of Pam Lewis' talk will be "pet care."

For information about library programs, persons may call 620-2017.

L.V. park shelters considered

Picnic shelters in Las Flores Park that would accommodate up to 150 persons are under consideration by the La Verne Parks and Recreation Commission.

The board has authorized Recreation Director Ray Kaldenbach to check the cost of the improvement. Money for the project would come from the city's bedroom tax.

Kaldenbach says the plans call for the construction of six to eight individual covered shelters each with tables, benches and barbecue facilities. A central kitchen could be added to provide accommodations for community type breakfasts.

He said the shelters, if approved by the City Council, would be built in the northeast section of the park, next to the redwood grove that was planted there a year ago.

Kaldenbach estimated the cost of the project at about $50,000.

Dieticians warned of caffeine harm in other foods

BOSTON (AP) — Children who devour chocolate bars and guzzle cola drinks may be consuming unhealthy amounts of caffeine, according to a California researcher.

Mary Louise Bunker, a scientist at the University of California in Los Angeles, told a gathering of dieticians here Tuesday that the public should be given more information about the caffeine content of foods and beverages.

L.A. County cars will be auctioned

Forty-eight used cars, "no longer needed" by Los Angeles County employes in their work, will be auctioned off to high bidders Oct. 30.

The auction is part of an austerity program currently undertaken by the Board of Supervisors to keep down taxes. So far, 188 vehicles have been turned in with 57 more to follow.

Thirty of the surplus cars already have been sold, bringing to the county a total of $34,350, according to Supervisor Kenneth Hahn.

"It now appears that many of these cars were not as necessary to the performance of county jobs as some people had thought," Hahn said.

The austerity program, which has enabled the county to reduce taxes by 5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, also has been extended to a cutback of county employes.

Supervisor Pete Schabarum announced this week that the county work staff has been reduced by 3,000 so far, and plans call for another reduction of 3,000 to 4,000.

The auction will be held at the county's mechanical department, 1104 N. Eastern Ave., in Los Angeles.

Montclair council meeting canceled

The Montclair City Council meeting scheduled for Monday night has been canceled due to conflict with the annual conference of the Leageue of California Cities.

All council members will attend the conference in San Diego which begins Sunday and continues through Wednesday. The next regular council meeting will be held Nov. 1.

Montclair staff representatives to the conference are Lauren Wasserman, city administrator; Mike Milhiser, assistant to the administrator; Laurie Page, administrative assistant; City Clerk Trudy Hill; City Engineer Carl Sawtell; Mike Loehr, director of community development; and Capt. Ed Duran of the police department.

Hacienda-La Puente District bans March of Dimes films

The March of Dimes will not be allowed to show a film on birth defects or solicit support for a student walk-a-thon to students in the Hacienda-La Puente School District because of a school board decision to ban such presentations during school hours.

The board decided that allowing the March of Dimes to show the film would "open the door" to other non-school groups.

The film, about a boy with multiple birth defects, was shown to board members before they made their decision.

Most believed the film was informative and well done, but only trustee W. L. Torres believed the district should allow it to be shown during school hours.

The board promised to formulate a policy in the near future on what types of activities of non-profit organizations would be allowed on school property.

In other action, the board:

—Approved a contract agreement, one of the first in the area, with the Hacienda-La Puente Teachers Association. Terms will be released after teachers have ratified it.

—Approved an agreement with the Industry Urban Development agency for the construction of a swimming pool at Workman High School. The agreement will give the City of Industry ownership of some historically significant property in exchange for funds to build the new pool.

The property includes, the John Rowland home, built by one of the early pioneers in the area, and the John Reed mansion built in 1865.

Bazaar slated at Pacific State

New merchandise, antiques, arts and crafts, clothing, plants, bric-a-brac and other items will be offered for sale at a bazaar Sunday at the Pacific State Hospital in Pomona.

The 10th annual bazaar, to benefit patients of the hospital, will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission is free.

The event is sponsored by the Parents Coordinating Council and Friends.

There also will be lamps, candy, home-baked goods, hot dogs, and hamburgers.

Ontario residents may participate in Recreation Department's contest

Residents of Ontario who attend private schools or schools outside the city limits may participate in a "hot shot" contest at Chaffey High School today from 1 to 4 p.m.

The Ontario Recreation Department, in cooperation with Ontario schools, conducted Pepsi Cola/National Basketball Association hotshot contests this past week for local elementary, junior and senior high schools. The contests will continue into next week in the divisions of nine to 12-year-olds; 13- to 15-year-olds and 16 to 18.

All winners at school contests are eligible to participate in the citywide contest to be held Oct. 23 at Ontario High School. The final contest level at the national championship will award a $4,000 educational grant to winners in each division.

Persons wanting additional information should contact their local schools or the Ontario Recreation Department, 986-1151 Ext. 242.

Pomona firm's president receives 4 more awards

Robert B. Lewis, president of Foothill Beverage Co., has received four additional "Adolphus Awards" from Anheuser-Busch, the brewers of Budweiser beer.

"The Adolphus Award," part of the Budweiser wholesalers recognition program, is given to wholesalers and their organizations in recognition of outstanding performances and achievements in the marketing of Budweiser beer.

Foothill Beverage Co., 3525 Walnut Ave., Pomona, has previously won two gold Adolphus awards, two silver awards and five bronze awards. This management organization has achieved an Adolphus award level that exceeds all 950 wholesaler members of the Anheuser-Busch family, said officials.

Foothill's coordinated "extra effort" program includes conducting a draught beer school for retailers within their market area, advertising in programs for local events, speaking at numerous local social and civic programs, designing and promoting a "Bud-centennial" program which produced 1,620 pounds of aluminum cans for recycling, with the funds from the program donated to charity.

Community involvement included participation in the Red Cross campaigns, City of Hope Medical Center, contributions to the local college athletic program, and active participation in the local and regional community affairs.

PVCH administrator named to committee

Robert Burwell, administrator of the Pomona Valley Community Hospital, has been named to the Los Angeles County Hospital Commission.

The announcement was made by Supervisor Peter F. Schabarum.

Jewish Life to be celebrated

Celebration of Jewish Life will be the theme of "Shindig Shalom," a day-community festival and picnic planned for Sunday, Oct. 31, at San Dimas Canyon Park. The event is free of charge.

The first-time effort has been planned as a special day to bring together people of all ages from throughout the eastern area Jewish community. It is being sponsored by all eastern area synagogues and organizations and coordinated by the Eastern area Council of the Jewish Federation-Council based in Arcadia.

Singing, dancing, sports, picnic, games and specialized activities will highlight the occasion, designed to promote greater Jewish community solidarity.

The idea for "Shinding Shalom" resulted from a need to create Jewish awareness and closer social sharing on the community level said Steve Kaye, council president.

It will also serve as an informal opportunity to advise people about the many agency, synagogue and organizational resources available to eastern area residents.

Assisting in planning "Shinding" are Rabbi Ben Beliak, Claremont and Dr. Herbert Eisen, Ontario.

The council represents an area stretching from Pasadena to Downey and Monterey Park to Ontario and Pomona. Approximately 32,000 Jews live within those boundaries.

For further information, persons may contact the council at Zenith 2-4584

Pomona and Ontario residents planning Eastern Area "Shindig Shalom" are, from left, Molly Beezy, Herbert Eisen, Dean Blake and Goldie Brezinsky of Covina. They are finalizing plans for the day-long community picnic set for Sunday, Oct. 31 at San Dimas Canyon Park. The day of fun, sharing and socializing is being sponsored by all Eastern Area synagogues and organizations and coordinated by the Eastern Area Council of the Jewish Federation-Council based in Arcadia.

TO SPEARHEAD JEWISH CELEBRATION — Molly Beezy, left, Herbert Eisen, Dean Blake and Goldie Brezinsky are members of a committee which is organizing "Shindig Shalom" a celebration of Jewish Life which will bring together Jewish Communities from Baldwin Park to Alta Loma. The giant community picnic will be at San Dimas Canyon Park Oct. 31.

Chino parent claims she didn't rap CIE

A Chino parent who supported the year-round school program at a recent meeting claims that she did not criticize Citizens for Improved Education (CIE), an anti-YRS group.

Kathleen Jones, who works part-time for the school district, said she spoke to the school board Sept. 28 as a parent, not as a district employe.

Mrs. Jones, who has five children enrolled in Chino schools, noted that when she referred to "small, vocal special interest groups" she did not mean CIE. In her presentation to the board, she never mentioned CIE by name.

"I was talking in general about special interest groups," she noted.

Mrs. Jones warned the board not to allow itself to become the pawn of special interest groups in deciding issues relating to year-round school.

She had appeared before the board to complain about removal of the year-round issue from the November ballot. Mrs. Jones said the board needed authority to require students to attend year-round tracks, which would have been possible if the ballot question had been approved.

Ontario council adopts new rules for meetings

The Ontario City Council has adopted a resolution establishing rules for the governance of council meetings.

The council action was prompted by past experiences with individuals who disrupted council meetings in an effort to air personal grievances and philosophies.

Provisions of the resolution are:

— No person attending a meeting of the City Council shall position himself or herself or shall display any sign, banner or other object from a position or location so as to obstruct the view of any other person among the audience.

— No person attending a meeting shall position himself or herself or shall display any sign, banner or other object from a position or location so as to obstruct the view of any television camera televising such meeting.

— No person shall engage in any conduct which interferes with the orderly conduct of business by the City Council.

— Any person attending a City Council meeting shall take a seat at the request of the mayor or other presiding council person; and if no seat is available such person shall position himself as directed by the mayor or other presiding council person.

Valley Christian Center

The Rev. Win Worley, pastor of the Hegewisch Baptist Church, Chicago, Ill., will speak at deliverance services starting Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Pomona Valley Christian Center in Pomona and continuing through Oct. 28.

Mr. Worley, 48, has a B.A. degree from East Texas Baptist College in Marshall. He attended the Dallas Seminary for two years. He has a master of arts degree from the Northeastern Illinois State University in Chicago, and has done additional graduate work.

Currently he is in his 11th year of public school teaching. He has taught retarded junior high school pupils for four years.

Mr. Worley has been pastor of the Hegewisch Baptist Church since 1962.

Chino United Methodist

A reception for Jeanette Harris, recently employed as director of music at the Chino United Methodist Church, will be held on Sunday following the worship service.

Mrs. Harris is active in musical circles in the West End of San Bernardino County. She is director of choral music at Chaffey High School. She has directed choirs in Ohio and in Ontario and Upland.

United Methodist

The United Methodist Church of La Verne's Commission on Evangelism will sponsor an evangelistic revival service Sunday at 7:30 p.m. The service will be held in the chapel, 3205 D St., La Verne.

The program, which will include singing and prayer, is one of a series of evangelistic services to be held the third Sunday evening of each month.

Guest speaker will be Danny Lynchard, one of the pastors at Melodyland Christian Center in Anaheim. He is a student at the School of Theology at Melodyland.

There is no admission fee for the program.

Persons wanting more information may call 593-2013.

Claremont United

The Claremont United Church of Christ, Congregational will celebrate its 85th anniversary Sunday.

The 10 a.m. service will feature special music by the Chancel Choir and recorder ensemble. A historical statement will be given by Harold A. Bruner commemorating the establishment of the church on Oct. 21, 1891 in the old Claremont Hall of the Pomona College.

Dr. David M. Held, senior minister, will have for his sermon topic: "The Challenge of our Future."

The Church is extending the program of parent's morning out. This service will be offered on Wednesdays and Thursdays from 9 a.m. till noon. Reservations must be made. The phone number is 626-1724 or 626-1201.

Bethany Baptist

Bethany Baptist Church of Montclair will show the film, "The New Chuck Colson," at its 6 p.m. service Sunday.

Charles W. Colson, described by Time magazine as "tough, wily, nasty and tenaciously loyal to Richard Nixon" at the peak of a law career, became one of the President's closest confidants.

In the midst of the Watergate scandals came the December 1973 headline, "Colson Makes Decision for Christ." The story shocked Washington.

The public is invited to view the movie. Nursery care will be available for babies and toddlers.

Unitarian Society

"Pros and Cons on Ballot Measures" will be discussed at the 10:30 a.m. Sunday service of the Unitarian Society of Pomona Valley in Montclair. Carolyn Beatty and Alice Oglesby of the Claremont League of Women Voters will offer a pro-and-con analysis of the ballot measures for the approaching election.

Church school classes for children will be held at the same time and nursery care will be available.

Havdalah services

A parade and celebration marking the reading of Brasheet (Genesis) will begin today at 7 p.m. with Havdalah services (the ushering out of the sabbath) at McAlister Center. This will be followed by a parade with marching band and a procession of five Torahs to Little Bridges Auditorium.

Services will be concluded with street dancing to the music of traditional Hassidic melodies. This celebration is sponsored by Temple Beth Israel of Pomona and the Hillel Foundation at McAlister Center.

New Light Baptist

The Senior Usher Board of Greater New Light Baptist Church in Pomona will sponsor its "Annual Day" at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

The special program will feature the Greater New Light male chorus and adult choir and a speaker, LaVonne Caldwell, who will discuss "Love."

The public is invited to attend.

Our Savior Lutheran

Pastor David Vallesky of San Jose will be guest speaker Sunday at a "mission festival" service at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Pomona.

A potluck dinner will be held at the church following the 10:30 a.m. service. The speaker is a member of the Arizona-California District Board of Evangelism.

Claremont Methodist

The "Zumbabwe," a group of Rhodesian students attending Cal Poly Pomona, will present a program of Rhodesian music and dances Sunday at 7 p.m. at the Claremont United Methodist Church.

The program is sponsored by the Commission on Christian Mission, United Methodist Women and the Claremont United Church of Christ, Congregational Board of Outreach and Mission.

Freewill Baptist

The Rev. Phil Manly, chaplain at the County-USC Medical Center, will show the film "He Restoreth My Soul" Oct. 24 at 7 p.m. at the Princeton Freewill Baptist Church in Ontario.

Covenant Methodist

The Rev. Donald Coughenour has resigned as pastor of the Covenant United Methodist Church in Pomona.

He will leave Monday to a new church pastorate in Pennsylvania, his home state. A farewell reception will be held following Sunday's worship service.

Barnes invited to be minister

The Rev. David H. Barnes has been invited by the First Presbyterian Church to be its interim pastor. He began his ministry at the church on Oct. 1, succeeding the Rev. George A. Wilson who resigned at the end of August.

Since 1968, Mr. Barnes has served the United Ministries in Higher Education as the campus pastor at Cal Poly and Mt. San Antonio College. Prior to coming to the colleges, he served a church in Pennsylvania.

Following his ordination in 1961, Mr. Barnes was sent by the United Presbyterian Church as a missionary to Formosa where he spent 2½ years. After returning to the United States, he served nine months as a volunteer for the National Council of Churches in the Delta Ministry in Mississippi.

He lives in Claremont with his wife, Edith, and two daughters, Anita and Rebecca.

Church members hold roles in convocation

Several members of the La Verne Church of the Brethren have major responsibilities in the conducting of the Church of the Brethren Pacific Southwest Convocation and Delegate Assembly to be held this weekend in Long Beach.

Leland Wilson, minister of the La Verne Church of the Brethren, is the worship coordinator. Leona D. Ikenberry, director of Christian Education, will be the worship leader at the Sunday morning worship service.

R. Truman Northup, executive secretary of the Pacific Southwest Conference, led the Friday afternoon session and discussion on "Why does the Church Grow and Not Grow?"

Armen Sarafian, president of La Verne College and a member of the La Verne Church of the Brethren, will be the main speaker at tonight's session.

Recording secretary for the business sessions of the convocation is Zeta Brandt.

The convocation will include Brethren delegates and members from congregations in California and Arizona. Delegates from the La Verne Church of the Brethren are Glenna Barnard, Mytice Coffman, Iva Snell, Opal Wilkinson, and Judy Woodruff.

William G. Willoughby, professor of religion and philosophy and chairman of the humanities division at La Verne College, will speak at the 10:30 a.m. worship service at the La Verne Church of the Brethren. Willoughby is an ordained minister and past director of the Church of the Brethren program in Europe.

The fall church council meeting will be held in the fellowship hall at 7 p.m. Sunday. In addition to election of church officers and board and commission members, Moderator Robert Neher said a major block of time will be given to discussion of major church goals.

Calvary Baptist Church

The Rev. Joe Pendleton, dean of the Baptist Missionary Association Theological Seminary, Jacksonville, Tex., will be speaker next week during revival services at the Calvary Baptist Church in La Verne.

Services will begin at 7 p.m., Sunday through Saturday. The church will run its buses for the Wednesday night service. Special music will be presented each night.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're very easy to get along with today, but you are also responsible. Managing people is your long suit.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Base today's activities around things the entire family can participate in. Let the children include a few select friends, too.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) All will appreciate the fact you are not the one who makes idle promises today. What you'll say you'll do, you will.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Material prospects continue to look encouraging. Gains will result through your own hunches or from deals set up by others.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're not likely to take things at face value today. You're equally interested in what's behind the facade.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) The good that you've done is coming home to roost. The returns are apt to far exceed your investment.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) A bright idea may occur to you today as to how to revitalize a situation that seemingly held no promise. It's worth trying.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your chances to reach important goals today are very good. Aside from your own initiative there's something extra going for you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) It's wise at this time to start looking ahead a bit. Plan now for the future.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You're very likely to get what you want today, but don't expect anything to be handed you on a platter.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't dodge a difficult decision today. It won't go away by ignoring it. Look at your problems squarely.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You may have a few additional responsibilities today. They're not beyond your capabilities. Take pride in your work.

Hospital death to be probed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The coroner's office will officially investigate the recent death of a patient at Metropolitan State Hospital in Norwalk, the mental institution that has come under heavy attack for alleged patient abuses, officials say.

An inquest into the Aug. 15 death of patient Ray Vann will begin Nov. 18, officials said. Vann's age was not available. The inquest had been slated to start Thursday, but more time was needed for tests, spokesman for the coroner said Wednesday.

The Vann inquest is one of many to be conducted at the hospital in recent months since critics of the institution have charged the administration with maltreatment.

73rd World Series opens in Cincy

CINCINNATI (AP) — Don Gullett, Cincinnati's fireballing left-hander who is free to play elsewhere next month, launches the Reds' bid to snap a 54-year jinx as he faces the reborn New York Yankees today in the 73rd World Series.

Gullett, at odds with the Reds since seeking a five-year contract, rejects the Yankee mystique that produced 20 World Series titles.

"I think we've got the dynasty going now," said the 26-year-old Kentucky country boy who is unbeaten since July 24.

Feisty Pete Rose waved off the Yankee legend: "That doesn't bother me. I think we've got a Cincinnati legend. We're the world champs."

Fair weather is predicted at Riverfront Stadium for today's 10 a.m. opener in the best-of-seven showdown. Oddsmakers rate the defending world champion Reds as 9-5 favorites to win their third World Series title.

The Yankees, who have rescaled the heights under pepperpot manager Billy Martin, are making their first World Series appearance since 1964 and are aiming to end a 14-year spell since last sipping Series champagne.

In a surprise move, Martin named 26-year-old right-hander Doyle Alexander to open the series against Gullett. Alexander, the only unsigned Yankee, was 10-5 during the regular season with a 3.29 earned run average. In 19 starts, he had five complete games, two of them shutouts. Alexander did not appear in the American League playoffs against Kansas City.

The Bronx Bombers, streamlined by former Reds general manager Gabe Pual into a team emphasizing speed rather than power, won the American League crown Thursday night with a 7-6 victory over Kansas City.

A ninth-inning home run by Chris Chambliss ignited a tumultuous mob scene at Yankee Stadium, starting up a rematch of the 1961 Series when Whitey Ford's pitching and Hector Lopez' hitting swamped Cincinnati in five games.

But that was before Reds President Bob Howsam began assembling the sophisticated parts of the Big Red Machine— a run-happy, basehit-hungry crew that Manager Sparky Anderson ranks along side some of the yesteryear Yankee juggernauts.

The Yankee lore threatens the Reds chances of becoming the first NL club since 1922 to repeat as world champions. Last year, the Reds outlasted Boston in a pulsating seven-game struggle that many rank among the most exciting Series of all time.

Anderson plans to start lefties Gullett, 11-3, and journeyman Fred Norman, 12-7, Saturday and Sunday at Riverfront. The Series moves to Yankee Stadium for night games Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Gullett has won six straight games since reacquiring his blurring fastball. He triggered the Reds' three-game National League playoff sweep of Philadelphia with an eight-inning, two-hit performance in the opener last Saturday. The stocky six-footer who once scored 72 points in a football game, has a 1.43 earned run average in his last 44 innings.

The Reds are dead sure they can run. Their 210 stolen bases in 267 tries this season was their best since 1919.

"They don't have the speed to compare to us," said slugger George Foster, whose 121 runs batted in led the major leagues.

On paper, the Yankees, with a five-time 20-game winner in Catfish Hunter, rate the edge in pitching. But the staff was depleted by the five-game AL playoffs, while the Reds have rested since Tuesday.

Anderson is going with Gullett and Norman in the belief that the Yankees have shown a vulnerability to left-handed pitchers. However, though the Yanks were only 42-32 versus lefties for the year, they were 26-9 against them on the road.

Meanwhile, the Reds have the upper hand in power, with five .300 hitters on a club that set teams records in runs, hits and RBI.

"I just don't see any club who can match our first eight players," said veteran righthander Jack Billingham.

END SWEEP

Walnut High running back Kevin Morgan sweeps his own right end and heads downfield in action Friday night in the Mustangs' contest with Alta Loma at Memorial Stadium in Walnut.

Walnut stuns Alta Loma

By TIM CLARK
PB Correspondent

Alta Loma came down from the clouds Friday night at MSAC and Walnut returned to form as the Mustangs soundly defeated the sixth-ranked Braves, 21-8.

Ken Gunn's Mustangs, performing before an excited Homecoming crowd, came out at the very onset of the Hacienda league contest leaving no doubt that they wanted to hit, execute and win more than the visiting Braves did.

Walnut took the opening kick-off and marched down to paydirt in 10 plays, covering 54 yards, with Kevin Bowlin scoring on his only carry of the night on a two-yard slant at the 8:56 mark of the initial quarter. Kevin Morgan danced in untouched for the two-point PAT to give the hosts an early 8-0 lead.

After Walnut took a 15-0 advantage into the fourth quarter, Alta Loma decided that it was time to take off their laurels and play some ball, taking advantage of a Kevin Loggins fumble at the Mustang 17, punching the pigskin into the endzone seven plays later on a four-yard run by Mike Sloan. The Braves were right back in the hunt with a Jeff Holladay PAT run, 15-8, with 9:01 remaining to play in the game.

But a Walnut upset was written in the stars, as little ((5-10, 154 pounds) Frank Miller of the Mustangs broke the backs of the mighty Braves.

Miller, a soccer-style kicking specialist, salted the contest away with two dead-ringer field-goals of 38 and 42 yards, respectively.

Walnut has reached the same level as Alta Loma in the Hacienda league standings after four contests. The Mustangs, Braves, Bonita (a 32-0 winner over Sierra Vista) and Royal Oak (14-2 over Ontario) are all now deadlocked in second place with identical 2-1 records. The Hacienda frontrunner is, of course, San Dimas

Morgan, the bruising Walnut running-back, was virtually the only succesful Mustang weapon used against the Alta Loma defense. Morgan lugged the ball for a total of 28 carries, grinding out 139 yards (Walnut's total offense was 181). Kevin became the first rusher to exceed 100 yards this year against the Braves, and has now jacked his season totals to a very impressive 605 yards on 108 attempts, far and away the lead rusher in the Pomona valley. Alta Loma, in fact, dominated the final statistics. The Braves had 294 yards in total offense to Walnut's aforementioned 181, 15 first downs to Walnut's 11, 203 rushing yards to the hosts 156, 91 passing yards to the victors 25.

What killed the Braves were lost fumbles (four in all), and 92 yards worth of penalties. It seemed that everytime Alta Loma was on the move, an unsportsman like conduct penalty was docked, or a loose ball would fall into the hands of a Mustang defender.

Alta Loma, now finding themselves thrown into the midst of a dog-fight, will host the hot-cold Bonita Bearcats this Friday at Chaffey High. Expect to see some sparks fly in this one, as coach Tom Cook will make sure that his Braves are ready to play this time around. Walnut should have a laugher Thursday night at MSAC, hosting the "rampaging" (0-21 over the last two years) Gladstone Gladiators.

Vikings remain undefeated, 13-6

By MIKE BROSSART
PB Staff Writer

Garey High scored 13 points in the first quarter of Friday night's game at Upland and held off the host Highlanders for a lackluster 13-6 victory.

The win give s Garey, 4-0-1 on the year, a 3-0 San Antonio League record and sets up a battle for first place next Friday when the Vikings travel to Damien, also 3-0 in league play.

"We played lousy," laughed Garey coach Lawson Bush after the game, "but we won so I'll take it. I know one thing — we'll have to play better than that against Damien."

In the end an equipment violation thwarted what looked like a good chance for Upland (1-2, 1-4) to score a second touchdown. With two minutes left in the game, Garey had to punt from its own 26-yard line on a fourth-and-seven situation.

But Highlander punt receiver Doug Lindsey was cited by an official for not wearing a mouthpiece on the play and the Vikings were awarded 15 yards and a first down at their own 46.

The Vikings were then able to run off a first down and six plays before punting and the Scots took the ball at their own 39 with just 13 seconds left. Quarterback Steve Davenport hit Doug Lindsey with two passes for 21 yards but fumbled on the last play of the game and Garey's Kelly Perkins recovered.

The Vikings scored all the points they needed with 7:23 left in the first quarter. Garey had taken the kickoff and punted to Upland but the Highlanders gave back the ball on their first play from scrimmage.

Davenport hit Paul Lindsey with a short pass but the receiver fumbled and Garey's Ralph Dixon recovered.

Six running plays — including a 16-yard sweep by Dixon — moved the ball to Upland's 4 but Scot defender Curt Killion sacked Garey quarterback Al Clay on the 11.

Clay then threw an incomplete pass under a big rush from Allan Ravitch but on fourth-and-goal-to-go the Garey signalcaller hit wide receiver Chris Davis on the five and he raced to the end zone. Arcadio Reyes kicked the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

The Vikings scored again on their next possession with a 10-play drive that started on the 50.

Dixon took a pitchout from Clay and went the final four yards with 1:18 left in the first period. Reyes' extra-point try was blocked by Rich Dalquest.

Upland scored its touchdown on a two-yard sneak by Davenport with 32 seconds remaining in the first half.

The Scots had 19 yards of total offense when they began that scoring drive with 4:25 left in the half. But they went 65 yards for the score on 10 plays, including runs of 17 yards by Kelly Riefel and 18 by Paul Lindsey.

Garey finished the first half with 135 yards of total offense and nine first downs to Upland's 94 yards and four first downs, all on the scoring march. The inability of the two teams to move the ball in the first half was exceeded only by their inability to move the ball in the second half.

Giants' rally spells 27-3 win over Chino

By PAUL CLICK
PB Correspondent

Ganesha High, leading 6-3 at halftime, exploded for 21 second half points as the Giants downed the Cowboys, 27-3, Friday night at Chino High.

Ganesha fell behind Chino 3-0 early in the first quarter but the Giants blanked the Cowboys' offense over the final 35 minutes of action.

The Giant offense was sporadic throughout the first half as the Cowboys mixed up their defenses well on the Ganesha squad. However, Ganesha's offense collected itself and began bulling its way through the Cowboy defensive line.

"I thought we were able to adjust to Chino's changing defensive alignments in the second half," noted Ganesha's Garry Norvell. "Our defense kept up in there during the first half but we're going to have to keep on improving to keep winning."

Ganesha's defense tightened on the Cowboy offense as the game progressed into the second half. The Giants were able to thwart several Chino attempts at punching the ball over the goal line.

Chino, trialing 20-3 late in the third quarter, marched the ball down to the Giant 10 yard line. But Ganesha stopped the Cowboys on four plays. It was the last look Chino had at the contest.

Ganesha promptly took over and rushed its way down field for its final score of the night. Ganesha, despite having the ball for only 13 plays in the third quarter broke open the game with two long touchdown plays.

The Giants' rushing attack was successful as they were able to dispose of the Cowboy line in the second half for big gains by Floyd Eddings and Bennie Gooden. Eddings racked up 95 yards while Gooden carried the ball 15 times for 122 yards.

Damien keeps pace with win over Cavs

By MARK GRIP
PB Correspondent

Defending San Antonio League co-champion Damien High is right there again after three weeks of league play, sharing the top spot with Garey, both boasting perfect 3-0 records.

Spartan quarterback Dan Marconi passed his team to two touchdowns and a 21-7 victory over host Montclair Friday night, enabling Damien to remain on its perfect trend.

Damien (4-1 overall) never looked in doubt, as it marched offensively, and used key defensive plays in rolling a up a 21-0 margin over three and a half quarters.

All Marconi did in the first half was hit on 12 of 13 passes for 149 yards and two Spartan touchdowns. The junior signal caller finished with 17 of 22 aerials for 191 yards.

Damien wasted little time in asserting itself as Marconi marched the Spartans 63 yards in six plays to score at 7:14 of the first quarter.

Marconi connected with split end John Davis for a 30-yard scoring pass to cap the drive with Greg Flynn adding the point after.

Damien threatened to score again with two minutes left in the game. On first-and-goal from the Cavalier five, Leo Burke drove to the goal line and fumbled, with safety Kent Gurney falling on the loose pigskin in the end zone.

Linebacker Steve Huysman set up the second Spartan score intercepting a Darrin Pierce pass at his own 47 yard line.

Six plays later, Marconi hooked up with halfback John Rayburn for a 20-yard TD pass with 4:23 remaining in the first half. Flynn added his second PAT.

Montclair came out of the locker room fired up at halftime, and took over on its own 13 following a punt with 9:14 left in the third period.

The Cavalier offense drove the ball to the Spartan 44, before quarterback Pierce, on a broken play, threw the ball into the hands of Damien's Rick Gonzales. Gonzales returned the ball to the Montclair 12 yard line to set up the final Damien score .

Lou Saban bows out as head coach of Bills

BUFFALO (AP) — Lou Saban stepped down as coach of the Buffalo Bills Friday, and offensive line coach Jim Ringo was immediately named to succeed him.

Saban, who had five years remaining on a 10-year contract, said he decided to quit because he "felt that under the circumstances a change was necessary in the best interest of the ball club and organization."

When pressed further, Saban told newsmen, "My reasons are my own and I am now history."

The Bills have won only two of their five National Football League games this season after being a preseason favorite in the American Conference East.

"Lou Saban and I met this morning at his request and, during the course of our conversation, Lou said he felt a change was necessary to get the team moving again," said Ralph Wilson, Bills owner. "It was his opinion that both the best interests of the squad and the entire organization would be served by naming a new man."

Wilson said Ringo was chosen because he has done "an outstanding job as offensive line coach" and has been with the Bills the longest of the assistant coaches. The owner also said he didn't want to go outside the Bills' organization for a new coach.

Ringo said the move took him by surprise.

"When I left the house this morning I was preparing to meet the Baltimore Colts and all of a sudden I'm taking Lou's job," the newly named coach said.

The Bills host Baltimore on Sunday.

Bobby Unser wins pole

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Bobby Unser had the pole position for today's International Race of Champions 100-mile event, but none of the 11 elite world class drivers competing here managed to come close to the lap times turned in by the journeyman driver who set up the identical Camaros being used.

Veteran George Follmer made laps in 1 minute, 30.0 seconds in test sessions earlier this week. In comparison, Unser's pole winning time was 1:31.475 seconds for the second race this year in the four-race, $200,000 series.

The third race is to be held Sunday in conjunction with a Formula 5000 road race. Alan Jones of Britain led first day qualifying for that event with a time of 1:13.648.

"Everybody is basically happy with the way George has set up the cars," said Jay Signore, manager of Penske Racing, which prepares the cars used in the IROC series. "But George is still the fastest."

Follmer, who has competed in the series before, was not picked this time because he saw only limited competition. Still, he won the Trans-Am sports car title.

Signore pointed out, "In practice, only three drivers matched George's tire temperatures." Such readings are an indication of how much of the car's potential drivers are utilizing.

"It's just a difference in driving styles," Signore said. "They'd all go out in the same car, and for instance Cale Yarborough would say the car was pushing. Richard Petty would say it's too loose. And Jody Scheckter says it's like driving on ice."

Those three were bunched in the middle group of qualifiers. David Pearson was second fastest over-all.

Slowest was Buddy Baker, winner of the first race of this season's series at Michigan in September. Of the 2.547-mile course used, which is different than the one used for Grand National stock car race here, Baker said, "I never even knew that was here."

All of the cars have been reworked since the brutal Michigan race, which had a variety of spins and crashes. The most seriously damaged car belonged to Formula I driver James Hunt, who has withdrawn from the series.

Rams will start Haden vs. Bears

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Coach Chuck Knox of the Los Angeles Rams named rookie Pat Haden, the Rhodes scholar from the University of Southern California, to start at quarterback in Sunday's National Football League game against the Chicago Bears.

Haden, who directed the Rams on Sept. 19 in the 10-10 overtime deadlock against the Vikings at Minnesota, takes over for the injured James Harris.

Bruins to test Cougars

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Washington State has won but one game this fall, while fourth-ranked UCLA has yet to lose, so the Bruins are a heavy favorite in the Pacific-8 meeting with the Cougars tonight in the Coliseum.

But Washington State has a history of playing closer games than expected against the southern members of the conference, and the Cougars come off a suprisingly close loss, 23-14, to eighth-ranked Southern California.

Too, UCLA Coach Terry Donahue says he expects every game remaining on the Bruins' schedule to be a "dogfight."

"If I had to predict how we'll play in the coming weeks, I'd say we'll struggle every week," UCLA's rookie coach commented, citing the Bruins' national ranking and the fact that everybody would like to upset them.

Going into the game against Washington State, Donahue said he was particularly afraid of Cougar quarterback Jack Thompson.

One of the nation's top passers this fall, the sophomore signal caller connected on 26 of 50 passes for 341 yards in the loss to USC Saturday. He has hit 77 of 126 for 1,104 yards this season.

Thompson should provide a good test for the Bruin defensive secondary, which got quite a workout against Stanford this past weekend. UCLA's air defense responded well, picking off five of Cardinal quarterback Guy Benjamin's throws in the 38-20 Bruin victory.

The Bruins, 4-0-1, went into the fourth quarter trailing the Cardinals 20-10, but four Stanford interceptions and a fumble in the final 15 minutes enabled UCLA to win going away.

Washington State, 1-4, tied the game with Southern Cal 14-14 in the final quarter, but the Trojans, behind a 347-yard rushing performance by Ricky Bell, pulled out the victory.

Jackie Sherrill, the Cougars' first-year coach, said he has been impressed with UCLA's play, particularly with the running of Wendell Tyler and Theotis Brown.

"They are very fine backs, but we can't key on them that much," Sherrill said. "If we do, some one else will hurt us. We have to stop their offense to stop them; we can't stop just one player."

The Cougars, who haven't beaten UCLA in nine years, lost last season's contest 37-23, as the Bruins' Tyler rushed for 89 yards and Washington State's Thompson completed 16 of 34 for 218 yards and two touchdowns.

Lakers best Blazers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers held off a fourth quarter assault by the Portland Trail Blazers and won their second National Basketball Association preseason game, 115-110 Friday night.

Laker forward Cazzie Russell led the Lakers with 26 points, with 10 in the final quarter. Trail Blazer center Bill Walton scored 26 points, outscoring Laker Center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who fouled out of the game with five minutes remaing after scoring 17.

The Lakers led 54-43 at halftime. Portland closed to one point at 99-98 with three and a half minutes to play before the Lakers pulled away on Russell's three baskets down the stretch.

'Pack polo players win

The Claremont Wolfpack water polo team defeated San Bernardino, 14-7, Friday afternoon.

Claremont built up a big 11-2 lead at halftime behind the fine play of forward Marty Jackson and goalie Ralph Buloang. The 'Pack got five goals from Jackson, three by John Borland, and two apiece by Jim Moore and John Oliver.

Claremont moved its overall record to 8-4. They will host Ramona High on Monday at 3:15 p.m. in El Rubio's pool.

Broncos face NAU

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. — Cal Poly is through with the Division 1 portion of the football schedule but the competition is still rugged for the winless Broncos.

Poly (0-4-1) tackles undefeated Northern Arizona (4-0), one of the nation's top Division 2 teams, here this afternoon in a 2:30 p.m. kickoff celebrating the Lumberjacks' Homecoming.

Coach Joe Salem has done a good job rebuilding Northern Arizona's grid fortunes. Salem suffered through an 1-9 season last year at Flagstaff but the Axers are off this year with victories over USIU (20-0), Idaho State (34-7), Nebraska-Omaha (28-13) and Montana (23-21).

Poly's offense figures to have a tough task this afternoon. The Broncos could manage only a 3-0 victory over NAU at home last year and face the nation's second best rushing defense club today.

The Lumberjacks have allowed only 59 yards a game on the ground and 198.3 yards per game total. Poly has had problems recently on the ground with 19 rushing yards against Mississippi State and 71 in last week's loss at North Texas State.

"I expect our game with Northern Arizona to be a physical and emotional game," Poly coach Andy Vinci said about today's contest in 7,000-foot Lumberjack Stadium.

On offense, NAU will present former Citrus College quarterback Herb Daniel, who has completed 41 of 84 passes for 494 yards and six touchdowns. Defensive back Tim Lockridge and center Paul Ducaineau are the Axers' other Citrus transfers in the starting lineup.

Kicker Tom Jurich of La Puente will also be out to do well against the Southern California visitors. Jurich has booted three field goals and 12 extra points.

Poly quarterback Leo Costa is expected to start today despite suffering a sprained thumb last week. If he has any problems, Sammy Ross will see action.

However, Poly enters the game with linebacking problems. Rich Kluck and Steve Boron were both injured last week at North Texas.

The Broncs played their strongest game of the season against North Texas and Vinci is hoping the improvement will pay off with an upset victory today.

"Poly is much better than its record indicates," Salem said. "They have played three Division 1 schools and their 21-10 loss at North Texas could have easily been a victory. We have the utmost respect for the Broncos and we are not looking past them."

Tigers on tear

Chaffey High opened Citrus Belt League play in impressive fashion Friday night, bombing Eisenhower 33-14 at the Orange Show Stadium in San Bernardino.

Other prep results Friday saw Webb School best Sherman Indian 20-0 in an Arrowhead League match, Royal Oak drop Ontario 14-2 in a Hacienda League encounter, Liberty Christian rout American Christian 38-0 in a Christian League game and Ontario Christian tie Whittier Christian 6-6 in an Olympic League clash.

Frank Fernandez led Chaffey past Ike with a two touchdown, 70-yard rushing effort. Dean Steffler's 74-yard dash with an interception in the fourth quarter put the game away for the Tigers.

Chaffey now stands at 3-2 on the season.

Webb upped its Arrowhead ledger to 2-2 with the win over visiting Sherman. Jim Hassler led the way with a touchdown and two PAT kicks.

A 24-yard pass reception by Pete Verhoeven from quarterback Hank Bouman netted OCHS a 6-6 tie with Whittier.

Bearcats bounce Hacienda foe

By DAN JOHNS
PB Correspondent

The Bonita High Bearcats, cashing in on two blocked punts, and a recovered fumble, blanked the Sierra Vista Dons, 32-0, Friday night at Bonita High.

The loss was the Don's fourth in as many tries, and it improved the Bearcats' season mark to 3-1-1. The Bearcat defense was strong all night, as they sacked Sierra Vista quarterback Rick Flores three times, and the Don's starting QB Henry Gonzales once for a total of four. The Bearcats' first score came with 7:38 remaining in the first quarter, a 22-yard completion from Bonita QB Sanford Coggins to tight end Kieth Brandt set the stage for a 7-yard run to paydirt by running back Ralph Ortega. The rest of the half was spent tearing up the middle of the field as neither team could sustain a strong drive.

Then in the third quarter the Bonita offense really came alive. Whatever Bearcat mentor Pete Lopez said to his squad at halftime certainly inspired the 'Cats, as they scored three times, on runs of five and six yards by Coggins and a tote of ten yards by sophomore running back Ray Banker.

The final score came with 3:52 remaining in the game, the Don's fumbled on their own three yard line with Brandt recovering and Ortega crashing in on his second try. Flores completed 5 of 13 passes on the night for 56 yards and the Dons backfield contributed 67 yards to the Sierra Vista attack for a total of 123 yards offensively. Halfback Ted Karesseboom was the Don's leading rusher with 57 yards on 12 carries.

The Bonita crew rolled up 207 yards total offense with the Coggins to Brandt combination amassing 90 yards of it. The leading rusher for Bonita as usual was Coggins with 66 yards on the ground.

Chaffey wins CC crown

The surprising Chaffey College cross country team copped the Mission Conference dual meet title Friday afternoon with a double-dual victory over Citrus and Palomar.

The Panther runners bested host Citrus 23-32 and beat Palomar 19-36 to finish conference action with a perfect 7-0 dual meet mark.

Owl Tom McCann won the race with a 21:10 clocking, but was followed by a fleet of Chaffey runners, led by Mark Flynn, Mike Roza and Scott McKeon.

Chaffey 23, Citrus 32
Chaffey 19, Palomar 36

Grossmont 15, Santa Ana 50

Top five finishers: 1. Hageson (G) 19:49; 2. Ebnier (M) 19:58; 3. Tillery (M) 20:08; 4. Austin (G) 20:12; 5. Jones (M) 20:17.

Sports briefs

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Phoenix Suns placed veterans Nate Hawthorne, Phil Lumpkin and Marv Roberts on waivers Friday, reducing their National Basketball Association roster to the 12-player limit.

PUEBLA, Mexico (AP) — The United States soccer team experienced a day it would like to forget here Friday when it lost to Mexico 3-0 in a World Cup soccer game and having someone get into their dressing room and stealing their clothes and personal belongings.

Mexico scored twice in the first half on goals by Solis at 29 minutes and Damian at 41 minutes. Davila booted a penalty kick at 82 minutes for the game's final goal.

PARIS (AP) — Arnold Palmer sank a 20-foot eagle putt on his way to a two-under-par 70 Friday to tie for the lead at the halfway point of the Lancome Trophy Golf Tournament with Gary Player of South Africa, David Graham of Australia and Jean Garaialde of France.

The four leaders were locked at 145 over the 6,875-yard St. Nom La Breteche course. The $40,000 tournament with a prize of $17,000 for the winner is limited to eight top world professionals.

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — George Foreman, patient and powerful, punched Dino Dennis into submission with smashes to the head and stopped him in the fourth round of a scheduled 12-round heavyweight fight Friday night.

In the first half of a national television doubleheader at the Hollywood Sportatorium, lightweight champion Roberto Duran was a man in a hurry, knocking out Alvaro Rojas with a right to the temple in the first round that left the Costa Rican on the floor for five minutes before he could leave the ring.

BALTIMORE (AP) — A $5.3 million damage suit has been filed against Alex Karras by a Maryland man who claims the former pro football star, now a television announcer, assaulted him following a game at RFK Stadium in Washington.

In the civil suit filed in U.S. District Court, Robert Crisp, an insurance claims manager from Laurel, Md., said the former Detroit Lions defensive tackle slammed him over the hood of a car outside the stadium after the St. Louis-Washington game Oct. 13, 1975.

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — Sweden's Bjorn Borg played near flawless tennis in the men's singles finals of the World Invitational Tennis Classic here Friday to crush American Arthur Ashe 6-1, 6-2 and capture the over-all point title in this unique eight player tournament.

Borg collected $50,000 for his effort plus a new car. He edged Evonne Goolagong Cawley for the over-all title. Each won three matches, but Borg won seven sets to Mrs. Cawley's six.

MSAC faces top passer

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

It will be one of the top junior college passers in the state vs. one of the top pass defenses in the state tonight at Memorial Stadium in Walnut, as South Coast Conference powers Mt. San Antonio and Grossmont collide at 7:30 p.m.

The two schools both sport 1-0 records in SCC action, and tonight's winner would figure to have the inside track on the conference title and a possible trip to the Junior Rose Bowl.

Mission Conference games of local interest pit Citrus (1-0) vs. San Diego City College today at 1:30 p.m. at San Diego, and Chaffey (1-0) at Palomar in a 7:30 p.m. start.

Grossmont (3-1 on the year) will bring to town one of the top passers in the Southland JC ranks in Jim Freitas. Freitas, younger brother of former San Diego St. star Jesse Freitas, transferred to Grossmont this year after spending his freshman campaign at UCLA.

He has completed 69 of 110 passes so far, for a 63 percent completion average. Those 69 completions have gone for 894 yards and nine touchdowns.

However, he will be throwing against a MSAC secondary which has already picked off eight passes this year while limiting the opposition to only 49 completions in 110 throws.

Larry Vicino and Jim LaBouff, with three interceptions apiece, lead that secondary. Napoleon Sparks and Jay Giangregorio have added a theft each to the Mounties' total.

The two teams' offenses will be studies in contrasting styles this evening. The Griffins get things done through the air, while the Mounties have been very effective with a ballcontrol type of game.

Grossmont's top rusher is Leroy McGee with some very impressive stats. McGee has gained 397 yards so far, on only 47 carries, for an 8.4 yards-per-tote average, tops in the SCC. Top Mountie runners are Mike Hill (458 yards), Brian Bethke (241 yards) and Dana Hutchinson (181 yards).

Bethke, although he has thrown the ball only 44 times all year, might surprise the Griffins with his arm if the visitors try to play the Mountie running game.

The sophomore signal caller from West Covina has completed 28 of those passes, five of them for touchdowns. He has also thrown only one interception all year.

Don Warren and Tom Peterssen have been Bethke's main targets. Warren, the MSAC tight end, has caught 12 passes for 152 yards, while Peterssen has hauled in 10 tosses for 131 yards.

Grossmont's top receivers are Mitch Bonilla and Kerry Schimpf, who rank one-two in the SCC stats in receiving. Bonilla has snagged 19 for 235 yards, while Schimpf has near-indentical statistics with 18 receptions good for 256 yards.

Top Griffin defensive player so far has been safetyman Terry Hanslik, who leads the conference with five interceptions. He has returned those five 106 yards.

Leos face Cal Lutheran

SCIAC teams play their last non conference games this week.

La Verne (2-1) travels to Thousand Oaks for a 2 p.m. game with Cal Lutheran (3-1). Pomona-Pitzer hosts Cal tech (0-1) tonight at 7:30 p.m. at Alumni Field. C-M (0-3) has a bye.

La Verne was guilty of five second-half turnovers last week in its upset by Azusa Pacific. The Leopards seemed to run out of gas in that one.

Temperatures in Thousand Oaks shouldn't be as high, but the Kingsmen are a tougher team than APC. Last year, after an undefeated season, they advanced all the way to the semi finals.

Coach Bob Shoup has 24 players (but only six starters) from last year's team. Included are wide receiver Butch Eskridge, tight end Steve Trumbauer and defensive end Richard Bravo.

"Cal Lutheran has never been very easy for La Verne or anyone else to handle," said Leo coach Rolant Ortmayer. "I would liked to have gotten to this game with a full head of steam. But I think we'll put things back together and be pretty tought."

"La Verne runs hot and cold," said Shoup. "If they are up for us. We could be in serious trouble."

Pomona-Pitzer should have little trouble picking up its second victory. Undermanned Cal Tech, conference doormat in most sports, plays mainly a JV schedule.

Golf pro Rik Massengale, winner of the 1976 Sammy Davis Jr.-Greater Hartford Open, leads a Bible study group that meets regularly on the pro circuit.

'Hens, Stags clash

Pomona-Pitzer (5-0) and Claremont-Mudd (4-1) clash in SCIAC soccer competition at C-M's Parent Field (2 p.m.) this afternoon.

The Sagehens had their shutout streak broken in Wednesday's 9-1 victory at Occidental. Prior to that they had blanked four consecutive league opponents while scoring 22 goals.

The 'Hens only defeat in a 6-1 season was a 4-1 loss at Cal.

The Stags hold victories over conference foes La Verne, Redlands, Oxy and Caltech while losing to Whittier, 2-1. P-P squeezed by Whittier, 1-0.

JOHNNY WONDER

Johnny Wonder's QUESTION CORNER

There is no difference between a hurricane and a typhoon; both are tropical cyclones.

In the western Atlantic tropical cyclones are known as hurricanes, from a West Indian name. In the western Pacific they are known as typhoons, from a Chinese word.

A tropical cyclone is a violent windstorm, often hundreds of miles across. The winds whirl in a great circle at speeds that reach 75 miles an hour, and more.

Hurricanes and typhoons form over tropical oceans not far fromt he equator. They usually move across open water. But they sweep over islands and may skirt along a coast, leaving behind wreckage, water and fallen trees.

Each year, weathermen make up a list of girls' names, which they give to hurricanes as they appear.

The first one of the season has a name that begins with A, the second begins with B, and so on. The letter "D" for "Diane," for example, tells that it is the fourth hurricane of the year.

A World Almanac globe or other fine prize will be awarded to the first youngster sending in a question used here. Send your question and your age to Johnny Wonder, (c/o this newspaper), Box 1335 (DA), Santa Cruz, CA 95061

Bank promotion

Fred R. Molinary of Alhambra has been appointed manager of the Bank of America's West Pomona office.

Molinary joined the banking firm in 1962 and has been assistant manager of the Huntington Park office since 1975.

University Club speakers

Peter L. Drucker, professor of economics and specialist in business management at Claremont Graduate School, and Fred Krinsky, head of the government department at Pomona College, will address the University Club of Claremont at its Tuesday noon luncheon at Griswold's.

The pair's talk on "The American Character and Mentality" is part of the club's October colloquim which seeks to examine America's moral fitness as it enters its third century.

The talk is a forerunner of an address by Norman Cousins, editor of Saturday Review magazine, on the same subject Oct. 23 at 9 a.m. at the Church of the Brethren, La Verne.

Uplander takes Reno post

Robert Kendro, 41, finance director for Upland, has been hired to fill the same post in Reno, Nev., starting Nov. 1.

Kendro's hiring was approved by the Reno City Council at a starting salary of $27,500 a year. He served as Upland's finance director for five years. Upland City Manager Lee Travers said the city has already started recruiting procedures for a new finance director. He anticipates that the post will be filled with 60 days.

Kendro's resignation from the Upland position is effective as of Oct. 29.

San Dimas man commended

He is a heavy duty truck operator with the general plant division.

He is a member of the, Elks Lodge, Arcadia, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post, Azusa.

Make Today Count meets

The Pomona Chapter of Make Today Count, an organization which helps people cope with cancer, will meet Monday at 7 p.m. at the Crest Mobile Manor Recreation Center, 3727 N. Equation Road, Pomona.

The newly formed organization is open to cancer patients, their family members or friends and all other interested people.

Persons wishing more information may call Mrs. Gilberte M. George, 593-6276, after 6 p.m.

SCAG approves bicycle paths for 5 cities

Five valley cities are among 71 in Los Angeles County whose applications for funding bicycle paths have been approved by the Southern California Association of Governments.

Nearly $1.9 million in funding has been approved by SCAG for the bikeways and for pedestrian paths.

Valley cities and the amounts they will receive to help build and maintain the bike paths include: Pomona, $16,730; Claremont, $5,067; La Verne, $4,303; San Dimas, $4,282, and Walnut, $3,279.

Appropriations are for the fiscal year 1976-77. SCAG is responsible for administering local transportation fund revenues from sales taxes to six Southern California counties.

The cities have been accumulating money for the past three years. SCAG officials say most of them now will have enough money, with the latest appropriations, to begin construction of the bike paths.

The allotments include money both from the state and the federal government.

Health Planning Task Force names reps to S.B. council

The West End Health Planning Task Force for the Inland Counties Health Systems Agency has named three members as representatives to the 30-member San Bernardino Health Planning Sub-area Council.

Chosen to represent the West End group are Hans Wiik, assistant administrator at San Antonio Community Hospital, Upland; Milton Thurber of Ontario, a retired certified public accountant; and Dave Mortensen of Chino, a regional planner for the government.

The West End force was established in September at a meeting in Chino. It was formed as a part of the National Health Planning and Resources Act under Public Law 93-641 and serves San Bernardino, Riverside, Inyo and Mono counties.

The newly formed group has the responsibility for producing specific service area health plans and promoting the development of health services, manpower and facilities in the four counties.

The seizure and fortification in March, 1776, of Dorchester Heights, in what is now South Boston, was the first real military success enjoyed by the Contintal Army. Not only were the British forced to evacuate Boston by this unexpected move, but the success served to inspire confidence in the leadership and capabilities of the American Army after the long siege of that city, The World Almanac notes.

Claremont District still seeking committeemen

The Claremont Unified School District still is seeking persons to serve on a proposed Planning Committee on Ethnic Awareness Inservice to ensure that appropriate representation of all interested segments of the community are included in the committee membership.

Assistant Principal Margaret Hodder reported to the school board recently that at present 16 applications or nominations have been received.

The nominations include a district administrator, seven district teachers, four parents, a student, and three community representatives.

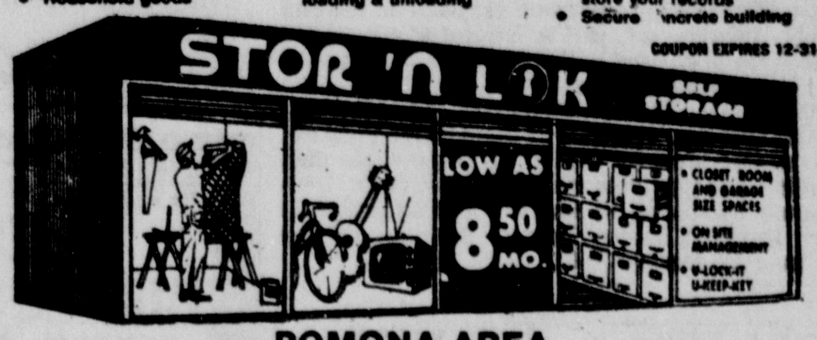

Mrs. Hodder said that she had sent letters to persons whose names were suggested to her, and that a number of them had responded.

She explained that a person wishing to serve on the committee may nominate himself.

She said that applications are available at the district office.

The board postponed the convening date of the committee until Oct. 25.

NEWSPAPER CARRIERS' DAY
....OCTOBER 16....

Political arena . . .

Claremont Republican Women will hear ASSEMBLYMAN BILL LANCASTER, R-62nd Dist., and LOUIS BRUTOCAO, Republican candidate in the 35th Congressional District, when they meet Wednesday at 11:30 a.m. at Griswold's.

Both candidates will outline their views on the issues. A question and answer period will follow. Reservations may be made by calling Jan Phares at 626-4320.

Students at the Claremont Colleges, Cal Poly Pomona and Mt. San Antonio College in Walnut will assemble Wednesday noon to participate in a CARTER-MONDALE CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE effort to get out the vote.

The event, being called Southern California Campuses for Carter, is to be carried on simultaneously at UCLA, USC, Cal State Long Beach, Cal State Northridge, U.C. Irvine, Cal State Los Angeles, Los Angeles City College, Cal State San Diego, Loyola-Marymount, El Camino Valley College and Orange Coast College.

Students will be asked to sign pledge cards signifying their written promise to vote on election day Nov. 2.

Show business personalities, including James Caan, Burt Lancaster and Joseph Campanella, and a number of elected officials are scheduled to make campus appearances.

JIM GONSALVES, Democratic candidate in the 64th Assembly District race, will be honored at a reception Oct. 22 at the Disneyland Hotel in Anaheim which will be attended by California's top elected officials.

On the guest list are Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr., U.S. Sen. Alan Cranston, Secretary of State March Fong Eu, State Treasurer Jess Unruh, former Congressman Chet Holifield, Los Angeles County Supervisor Pete Schabarum, Speaker of the Assembly Leo McCarthy, Assembly Majority Leader Howard Berman and Assemblyman Joe Montoya, D-60th Dist.

Information concerning tickets may be obtained by calling the Gonsalves for Assembly headquarters at 213 943-3713.

The Republican Central Committee of the 64th Assembly District, in conjunction with the Diamond Bar Republican Organization, will open a Diamond Bar Republican Headquarters at 2805 Diamond Bar Blvd., on Oct. 23.

Marge Cowdry is headquarters chairman. Those interested in working at the headquarters may call Mrs. Cowdry at 595-2059.

The grand opening, scheduled for 3 p.m., will be attended by Rep. Del Clawson, R-33rd Dist.; Assemblyman Bill Campbell, R-64th Dist., a candidate for State Senate in the 33rd District; and Dave Stirling, the Republican candidate in the 64th Assembly District.

Republican volunteers plan to keep the headquarters open daily from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. to answer questions, distribute literature and inform voters about Republican candidates.

S. I. HAYAKAWA, candidate for the U. S. Senate, will speak at an 8 a.m. breakfast Oct. 25, at the El Prado Golf Course, 6555 Pine Ave., Chino, which is to be sponsored by the Chaffey Community Republican Women.

Mrs. Jerene Appleby Harnish is honorary breakfast chairman.

Serving on the committee with her are William Walk Jr., Charles Cummins, Gene Alair, John Schnepp, Michael Milhiser, Mrs. Kip Carlson and Mrs. Ray Wallin.

Ticket information may be obtained by calling the Pomona Republican Headquarters at 622-9642.

REP. JIM LLOYD, D-35th Dist., and La Verne Mayor Mike Morales are members of the Area Advisory Committee in the Pasadena-San Gabriel Valley area for the California Carter-Mondale Campaign.

Frank Moreno is area coordinator.

Purpose of the advisory committee, members report, is to "ensure that our supporters have a voice in the Carter campaign and that the enthusiasm and energy for the Carter-Mondale ticket in this area will be used most productively."

Mrs. June Wallin of Ontario is heading up the Hayakawa campaign in the Ontario-Upland area. She has been a member of the Republican State Central Committee since 1963.

Currently she is serving as third vice president of the California Federation of Republican Women's Southern Division board.

Robert E. Botts, a San Bernardino savings and loan executive, is San Bernardino County chairman for S. I. HAYAKAWA, the Republican opposing Sen. John Tunney in the Nov. 2 election.

QUOTABLE QUOTES: "Should we keep the Panama Canal?" a reporter asked S. I. Hayakawa. "Absolutely," he answered. "We stole it fair and square."

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP) — You can pick up the phone in Framingham every Thursday and dial a "hot line" for the answer to that question about sex you've never asked.

The service by the nonprofit Institute for Family Education, Community Service and Research is for parents who want advice on sex education and for persons with personal questions about sex.

If opening day — Thursday — was any indication, the service is popular. "The phone hasn't stopped ringing," a spokeswoman said.

Unique entertainment center . . .

(Story on pages 4-5)

Doc Peirsol

It happened in Pomona,

In the early days of the Twentieth Century no town was without its legitimate theatre. Such places were called "legitimate" in order to differentiate them from the five and dime movie houses that were springing up all over the country — and naturally Pomona had one. It was called The Fraternal Opera House, and be assured it was legitimate — no nickelodeon shooting gallery type place of entertainment. Why, the first four rows on the main floor at the Fraternal Opera House were priced at 75 cents a seat. The remaining seats on the main floor and the remainder of the gallery seats required a 35 cent ticket. A bit steep perhaps, considering that at The Star Theatre one could watch three two-reel movie epics, a couple of short comedies, and listen to a local baritone singing the latest illustrated song hits, all for a dime. But to hundreds of Pomona's lovers of the legitimate theatre, price was no object. And so it was that in those years, thanks to the Fraternal Opera House, they were privileged to witness such outstanding dramatic productions as:

ON GAY BROADWAY — the big New York extravaganza with its world famous Salome Dance and Sheath Gown Chorus.

BREWSTER'S MILLIONS — featuring the New York, London and Chicago company.

THE ROYAL CHEF — a musical cocktail with a menu of music direct from a 26 weeks run in Chicago.

Chic Perkins in THE LITTLE PROSPECTOR.

THE DEVIL — starring Harry Leighton and Laura Hudson.

And May Mannary, the talented emotional actress, in AT THE OLD CROSS ROADS.

Finally, just to show you the lengths to which the manager of the Fraternal Opera House would go to please his discriminating theatre patrons, on December 8, 1908, he staged THE FLAMING ARROW featuring RED FLASH, the famous Indian runner who carried Custer's last message. It was said that a sprint of 100 miles a day as bearer of messages between forces of the regular army was but a trifle for RED FLASH who formerly had been one of the most noted blood thirsty warriors on the Dakota plains.

Antique wise

Colorful plate a collector's find

By Dorothy Hammond

(QUESTION:) The colorful old hand-decorated plate shown in the enclosed photo was purchased by my parents in France in 1948, from an antique shop. The plate measures 8¼" in diameter and is perfect. This plate is rather weighty, having an unusually thick body. I believe you could say its composition is pottery. The border on this plate is bureish-purple and the background color is a very light blue. The children are dressed in bright-colored clothing, the grass is green and yellow, and the mountains in the background are purple and white. The wild geese are black. I would appreciate an estimate of the value of this plate. Mrs. L.A.S.

(ANSWER:) The Quimper-like figures decorating the center portion of your plate suggest that it is of French origin. The grass and border decoration was applied with a sponge. I would estimate the value of your plate to be from $75-$90.

(QUESTION:) Several months ago you answered a question about the painting of N.C. Wyeth, father of Andrew Wyeth. My question concerns the value of a book entitled ANDREW WYETH by Richard Meryman, published in 1968 by the Houghton Mifflin Company. This is a first edition.

Because of my father's love for Wyeth prints, when he retired in '69, he was given a copy of Andrew Wyeth's works by his employees. Knowing of this, when my father passed away last year one of the employees would like to purchase the book. It sold for $75 at the time it was published. Could the book possibly be of more value today? We are curious as others have asked to purchase it during the past few months. Mrs. M.L.

(ANSWER:) The first book of Andrew Wyeth's paintings published in 1968 is quite valuable. Copies in mint condition are currently being priced in excess of $550.

(QUESTION:) I would like to know the value of a very old pattern glass water pitcher in the "Horse Shoe" pattern? Do you have any information on its origin and age? Mrs. N.C.L.

(ANSWER:) The Horse Shoe pattern — also known as "Good Luck" and "Prayer around Rug," was produced around 1881 by Adams & Company in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. John Adams founded the firm in 1823. By 1891, Adams & Company had joined the United States Glass Company merger and thereafter it was known within the organized company as "Factory A."

(QUESTION:) Having an interest in old tools, I recently acquired an unusual one — a .44 calibre bullet mold. While cleaning the corrosion from its metal surface I was surprised to find the manufacturer's name — "Winchester Arms Company, New Haven, Conn., U.S.A." There is a patent date, but it isn't discernible. This tool is 10½" long, has wooden handles (over metal), and is in good usable condition. Can you tell me what a bullet mold is worth? C.A.

(ANSWER:) Since your mold is marked with the magic word "Winchester," its value is around the $35 figure.

chess

Contrary to some old sterotypes, a game of chess can be a great social occasion. Walking one day in the Times Square area of New York City, I came across the following scene:

A chess "hustler" had placed a large piece of wood across a trash can on the sidewalk. Then, setting up pieces and board, he offered to play all comers at $1 per game.

A succession of opponents took him on. Like the audience, they were variously young, old; white, black, Hispanic; workers, businessmen, unemployed. At times, as many as 40 spectators crowded the outer edge of the pavement.

A spirit of fun and frendliness pervaded, as the audience alternately watched in rapt concentration and kibitzed noisily and vigorously.

At most times, the sympathy of the crowd was with the underdog challengers. But frequently I would catch an expression on the face of some onlooker, which seemed to say: "I could beat that fellow, if I only dared to try".

How true.

LARSEN'S COMEBACK

When Danish grandmaster Bent Larsen won the Biel Interzonal Tournament, this past summer, he astonished most everyone but himself. Among those writing him off was World Champion Anatoly Karpov, who felt Larsen's "nerves" would be a problem.

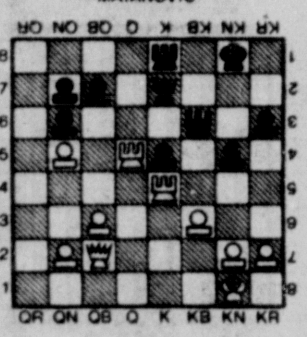

But Larsen won in a strong finish, while three ex-world champions (Smyslov, Petrosian, and Tal) trailed in his wake.

Instructive is the wind-up of his crucial game with the Yougoslav Alexander Matanovic. In the position below, we can see how Larsen deftly won a pawn by exploiting black's pawn weaknesses. With worse to come, Matanovic resigned.

Tinkering:

Fun for old car buffs

BY JEAN BARNES

Restoring an old car has been likened to working a gigantic jigsaw puzzle. The older the car — the greater the challenge.

The key to putting it together is an owner's manual and for the later models these are still fairly easy to come by but older manuals, if they can be found, can be an expensive asset.

Another tool used in restoration by old car buffs is Hemmings Motor News, a monthly publication thick with classified ads. With a copy of Hemmings (or similar publications) the collector restorer can spend nostalgia-filled hours, tracking down parts or just soaking in information.

Hunting a missing part is often a worldwide search. One collector found his missing part in England. Another, after advertising in Hemmings, sold and shipped a part to Africa. The hobby is not restricted to the United States. Old car enthusiasts are found in many, many countries.

Of course, you can have the restoration done by a professional but be prepared to spend a lot of time on the waiting list and to pay a whopping big fee — as much as $20 to $25 an hour. Professional restoration can run into thousands of dollars.

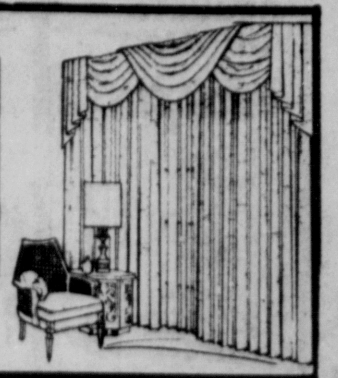

Most old-car enthusiasts prefer to do it themselves and count the hours of tedious tinkering as one of the rewards of the hobby.

Crystal Palace Dining Pavilion extends into Music Hall balcony so patrons can enjoy dinner while viewing show.

Unique entertainment center in downtown Santa Monica

Music hall turns include music, comedy, dancing and sketches.

From the outside the building looks like a neighborhood movie theater — which it once was — but inside it looks like a replica of an English music hall of the Victorian era — which it now is.

This is the Mayfair Music Hall & Palace of Varieties, an unusual and perhaps unique entertainment center in the heart of downtown Santa Monica, offering food and drink, music, dance and low comedy Wednesdays through Sundays.

The Mayfair is the oldest theater in the city. Constructed in 1911 as the Santa Monica Opera House, it became successively a vaudeville hall, a silent movie theater and a theater for "the talkies." Three years ago it was opened, renovated and remodeled, as the Mayfair Music Hall by Milt Larsen, a television writer and producer and creator of the famous Magic Castle in Hollywood.

Larsen was joined in the project by Thomas Heric and John Shrum, art director of NBC's Tonight show. Collecting many antique items from historic buildings throughout Southern California, they created a plush music hall of the gaslight era, complete with red velvet seats, goldleaf rococo boxes, polished brass, walnut paneling, stained glass and crystal chandeliers.

The pillars are from the old Belmont Theater in Los Angeles; the iron grillwork is from an early Bank of America building, and the stage floor came from the old administration building of Hollywood High School. The circular bas-relief bar came from the Santa Monica Bay Club, and the snack bar off the foyer came from the former home of a Los Angeles millionaire who had it shipped over from Scotland in 1913.

Upstairs in the Mayfair is the Crystal Palace Dining Pavilion, a large restaurant serving complete meals at modest prices. The pavilion also extends into the theater balcony, so diners can watch the stage show while enjoying a meal.

Lighter snacks are offered at the Grub Pub, featuring hot and cold pub lunches in baskets and Watney's light and dark draught beer. Theatergoers take their basket lunches and beer into the music hall to enjoy while watching the entertainment. Mini-skirted barmaids move through the hall taking orders. The circular bar is constructed so that half is in the lobby and half at the rear of the orchestra section. The bar top is adorned with rare old playbills and sheet music from the English "halls."

The entertainment at the Mayfair Music Hall, presided over by a "Chairman" (the English equivalent of a master-of-ceremonies), is loud, bawdy and fast-paced. There is community singing, musical numbers, dances and sketches. The show gets a boisterous and raunchy warmup from Cockney Doreen Murphy, the lady publican.

The Mayfair Music Hall is located at 214 Santa Monica Blvd. Admission is $5.50 on weekdays and Sundays, $6.50 on Saturdays. Students and senior citizens are admitted at $1 less. Group rates are offered.

Reservations can be made at (213) 451-0621.

Boris Danailoff entertains patrons by making their profiles from wire coat hangars.

ON THE COVER

Goldleaf rococo boxes, red velvet seats and walnut paneling are features of the Mayfair Music Hall and Palace of varieties, which this month celebrates its third anniversary in Santa Monica. Posters of English plays of the Victorian era are features of the decor. The Music Hall was originally the Santa Monica Opera House, built in 1911.

Blackbird cloud to descend on crops

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Far less welcome than the swallows in Capistrano, millions of blackbirds will soon be descending on Kentucky fields for the winter — destroying crops and spreading disease just as they did last year.

"They're on their way back," says Dr. Burt Monroe Jr., a University of Louisville biology professor considered the top ornithologist in Kentucky.

Last year, state officials said about 70 million blackbirds roosted in Kentucky. "I would be surprised if it's fewer this year," Monroe said. "It will probably increase."

Little can be done about it, Monroe said. The birds breed in the Northwest during the summer and, regardless of how many are killed in state and federally coordinated extermination efforts, return in growing numbers each year.

Until a few years ago, they were more dispersed, but Monroe said, "There has been an evident shifting of the birds northward. We've gone up in Kentucky and Tennessee and Arkansas have gone down."

For the past two years, state officials have tried various methods of getting rid of the birds. But poisoned feed killed only a few, and the noise from fireworks failed to frighten them.

A detergent — PA14 — was sprayed on several large roosts by low-flying helicopters to strip protective oils from the birds' feathers, causing them to freeze to death in cold, damp weather. That was partially successful — a few million birds died.

"You could kill them all, and then more would come back next year, they're so prolific," Monroe said. "If they killed every blackbird in Kentucky, there would be a minor effect. But the next year, at least just as many, probably more, would come back."

State officials say the birds cause millions of dollars in farm damage each winter. What's more, the droppings they leave under roosts create conditions suitable for the growth and spread of histoplasmosis spores. These cause a disease similar to a cold, but which can cause blindness in extreme cases.

"There are no long term solutions at the moment," Monroe said. "Research is being conducted on ways to control the reproductive rate of the birds. But that's just pie in the sky now."

Whooping:

Cranes fragile fruit of survival test, 4 live on

ALAMOSA, Colo. (AP) — At least four whooping cranes, the fragile fruit of an experiment to save an all-but-vanished species, are safely migrating south to winter nests, a wildlife expert says.

Charles Bryant, manager of the Monte Vista National Wildlife Refuge, said recently that two whoppers hatched from Canadian eggs this spring by sandhill crane foster parents and two yearlings have been sighted in Colorado.

A fifth has already arrived at its New Mexico wintering spot, a sixth is still at its Idaho birthplace, and a seventh is believed safely en route. An eighth whooper died Sunday.

It's the second year in a row the carefully nurtured cranes have undertaken their migration. The last native United States whooping cranes were sighted in the late 1940s. They vanished, partly because their size of up to five feet made them easy prey for hunters.

The birds are on their way with their foster relatives to New Mexico from the Gray's Lake National Wildlife Refuge in Idaho.

The whoopers, white with a red head and black wingtips and noted for their loud whoops, are the product of a joint effort by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Canadian Wildlife Service to create a new flock of the species.

"As far as the birds raising and this type of thing and following what we thought would be a true migration, it's a success," Bryant said of the experiment, conceived by Dr. Rod Drewien, a research biologist and crane expert at the University of Idaho.

"But what will happen in time, whether they'll pair off and have young and establish a new population of whoopers, we're looking at four to seven years" before finding out, Bryant said.

In the spring of 1975, Drewien and other biologists removed more than a dozen eggs from whooper nests at Canada's Wood Buffalo National Park and placed them in sandhill nests in Idaho. At the time, the 49 birds at Wood Buffalo were the only known wild whoopers in existence.

This year, more eggs were moved to the sandhill area, and scientists again are watching whoopers follow the sandhill migration route, far to the west of the one used by the other whoopers. The birds raised in Canada migrate south through Kansas and eastern Colorado and then south to Texas, Bryant said.

The experiment suffered a slight setback Sunday when one of the birds hatched this year died several days after flying into a fence.

"We knew about it Thursday," Bryant said. "We wanted to try and leave the bird with adults as long as we could. This morning it became obvious it was not going to be able to recover so we sent it to the vet," where the bird died.

Besides the four whoopers known to be safely on their way south, Bryant said one chick is still in Idaho and one "we assume is en route." Another yearling is already in New Mexico, he said.

Bryant said the year-old whoopers behave differently around their sandhill half-brothers and sisters from the way the younger birds do.

"These birds show some segregation traits. You'll find them off at the edge of the flock. It indicates they are showing some characteristics of no associations with the sandhills. The two yearling birds were off at the edge of the flock of sandhills."

Claremont High sets music fest

Claremont High School's vocal music department Friday and today staged its annual Talent-a-Thon, running 25 hours.

Money raised by the vocal students will be used to assist the department. Funds are needed to pay costs of Chamber Chorale outfits and Choir robes.

Public support is invited. The students will be performing until 5 p.m. today in the vocal music room at Claremont High School.

Half-time show

Spartans to host band meet

The West Covina High School Spartan Band is sponsoring a Half-Time Tournament Oct. 23 from 1 to 10 p.m.

A Half-Time Tournament is an event where high school bands compete against each other by performing their best halftime shows. The bands are judged by professionals and trophies are awarded.

In the West Covina event, bands will be classified according to size and experience.

Half-Time Tournaments have only recently become a major competitive vehicle for bands in the valley.

There will be competitions among small Class C bands from 1 to 3 p.m.; larger and more experienced Class B bands from 3 to 5 p.m.; and big, award-winning Class A bands from 7 to 10 p.m.

San Dimas High School Band will compete in the first category, Claremont High School Band in the second, and Chaffey High School Band, the third.

Tickets are $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12. They may be purchased at the gate the day of the event.

Career inventories set at Alta Loma

Career Performance Inventories will be given all freshmen, sophomore and junior students at Alta Loma High School Oct. 21.

Career Planning Supervisor Bob Fikes said the survey determines what a student's interests, aptitudes and capabilities are and correlates them with a prospective occupation.

Prior to testing day, each class will have an individual assembly. Films will be shown which stress the importance of finding the right job.

Results of the tests will be returned to students in two weeks. Teachers will plan to use test results for career study units and for counseling students

Marijuana bust:

Crackdown on Latin American connections rue to pushers

ATLANTA (AP) — In the Southeast, a principal target for marijuana smugglers from Latin America, a crackdown has reduced the availability and increased the cost of the imported variety.

But narcotics officers say that despite the crackdown, and possibly because of it, domestic marijuana is more popular and its use is increasing.

Georgia undercover agents say a pound of Colombian marijuana now costs about $350, compared with $160 for a pound of Mexican marijuana and $90 for the domestic product.

Narcotics officials say the decline in smuggling has been especially noticeable in the past six months and that this is a direct result of arrests and convictions.

Many smugglers ran into another problem: plane crashes. Officials at the Drug Enforcement Administration in Miami say smugglers had taken to flying marijuana to small, little-used airports throughout the Southeast, and that 115 planes carrying marijuana crashed last year, killing 17 persons.

Officials say some of the high-grade Colombian marijuana also is being brought into the country by boat.

'We don't have the time or manpower to mess with every kid . . .'

In the latest attempt, the Coast Guard seized a Panamanian vessel Sunday off Mississippi's Gulf Coast and arrested 15 crew members. The Coast Guard said the ship was carrying an estimated 21,700 pounds of marijuana. Officials said the shipment came from Colombia.

The DEA says that from July through December 1974, it made 132 arrests and seized 16,194 pounds of marijuana in the district that includes Georgia, South Carolina, Florida and Puerto Rico. Between January and June of this year, there were 170 arrests and 180,000 pounds seized, the agency said.

Phil Perry, assistant special agent in charge of the DEA in Atlanta, said there has been a noticeable decline in smuggling in the past six months.

"I think so many cases have been prosecuted and the conspiracies seem to go all the way up the line until they reach the top," he said. "Arrests and trials are still going on and the convictions indicate that the smuggling operations seem to be hurting a little bit."

Phil Peters, who heads the controlled substance division of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, says that "with the arrests and convictions of smugglers ... the domestic marijuana is on the increase."

Lt. Jimmy Day, a narcotics officer in the Louisiana State Police Department, said, "I don't have statistics on it, but marijuana arrests would be down because we are working on the larger dealers, not so much the kids on the street with a cigarette. We don't have time or manpower to mess with every kid that might be smoking. We're after the 10,000-pound and 15,000-pound seizures.

"I don't know if marijuana is becoming more respectable, but it is more accepted."

4-H Club sign-ups

The La Verne 4-H Club held its annual old and new member sign-up Tuesday night in the La Verne Community Building.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of a cake baked by club members to Mayor Mike Morales.

The presentation was in observance of National 4-H Week, Oct. 3-9.

Scholarship award set

Lyn Ober, a senior at Alta Loma High School, has received a scholarship award from the Art Center School of Design in Pasadena. She attends classes in drawing Saturdays through Dec. 18.

She was selected on the basis of scholarship, reliable conscientious behavior and good attendance, as well as her art talents.

ALLURING NATIVE — Miami native Pat Davidson, 19, strikes an alluring pose in a Miami Beach, Fla., park. She is a local college student majoring in pharmacy.

Sorenson, Palicki set for honors

Elizabeth Sorenson and Joe Palicki have been named outstanding student and teacher respectively at Alta Loma High School for 1976-77.

They will be recognized by the Industry Education Council of San Bernardino and Riverside counties at its annual banquet Nov. 3 at Cal State San Bernardino. The dinner will begin at 7 p.m.

Miss Sorenson has played in the Chaffey District Orchestra and is a member of the campus Chamber Singers. She is a school officer of the Foothill Baptist Church and has served as counselor at Camp La Verne for Alta Loma elementary school children.

She is a member of the Tepee Times school paper staff. She won an award in news competition in the Inland Journalism Education Association Write-off last spring. She is nominee for the outstanding chemistry student at school.

She has a 4.0 grade point average.

Palicki has been at Alta Loma six years. He has served as chairman of the English Department three years. He is an assistant trackcoach.

Lincoln Center group booked

The Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center, New York, will present a concert at 8:30 p.m. Thursday at the Ambassador Auditorium in Pasadena.

The group made its debut with three gala programs in September of 1969, as the official performing organization at Alice Tully Hall. Artistic director Charles Wadsworth made an intensive three-year survey of the chamber music field and the New York chamber music audience for Lincoln Center in accordance with his concept of "bringing together from all parts of the world strong musical personalities whose combination and interaction will create new excitement in chamber music performance."

The society maintains a permanent personnel of distinguished virtuosos, each with special reputation in the chamber repertoire, to participate in various combinations in the majority of the season's concerts. Members are Barry Tuckwell, horn; Leonard Arner, oboe; Jaime Laredo, violin; Walter Trampler, viola; Leslie Parnas, cello, and Richard Goode, piano.

Tickets are $8, $7 and $6. Both the box office and Phone Charge (BankAmericard, Master Charge or American Express) are open Monday through Friday, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday, noon to 6 p.m. Tickets are also available at Liberty or Mutual ticket agencies. The box office and Phone Charge number is (213) 577-5511.

Guitarist set at UCLA

Blind folksinger-guitarist Doc Watson will perform in Royce Hall, UCLA, at 8:30 p.m. Oct. 28.

Watson burst upon the musical scene along with the 1960s wave of popular interest in folk music. He was not, as many insisted, a purist or traditionalist. Rather, Watson was a thoroughly professional musician who belonged to both the city and the country. He developed a distinct style of his own, drawing from many diverse sources.

Watson's material comes from hymns his father led at the Mt. Parron Baptist Church, from lullabies his mother sang to him, from sacred songs his grandmother taught him, from songs he heard on the radio and from broadcast performances of the Grand Ole Opry.

BARBI DOLL — Playboy Records artist Barbi Benton will perform at the Troubadour in Los Angeles tonight and Sunday. The appearance is in conjunction with the release of her new album, "Something New." Miss Benton has just completed a tour of the East and mid-West.

Citrus to show movie

Citrus College will present "Lord of the Flies," the film adaptation of William Golding's novel, in the auditorium at 2 and 7:30 p.m. Oct. 25. Admission is free.

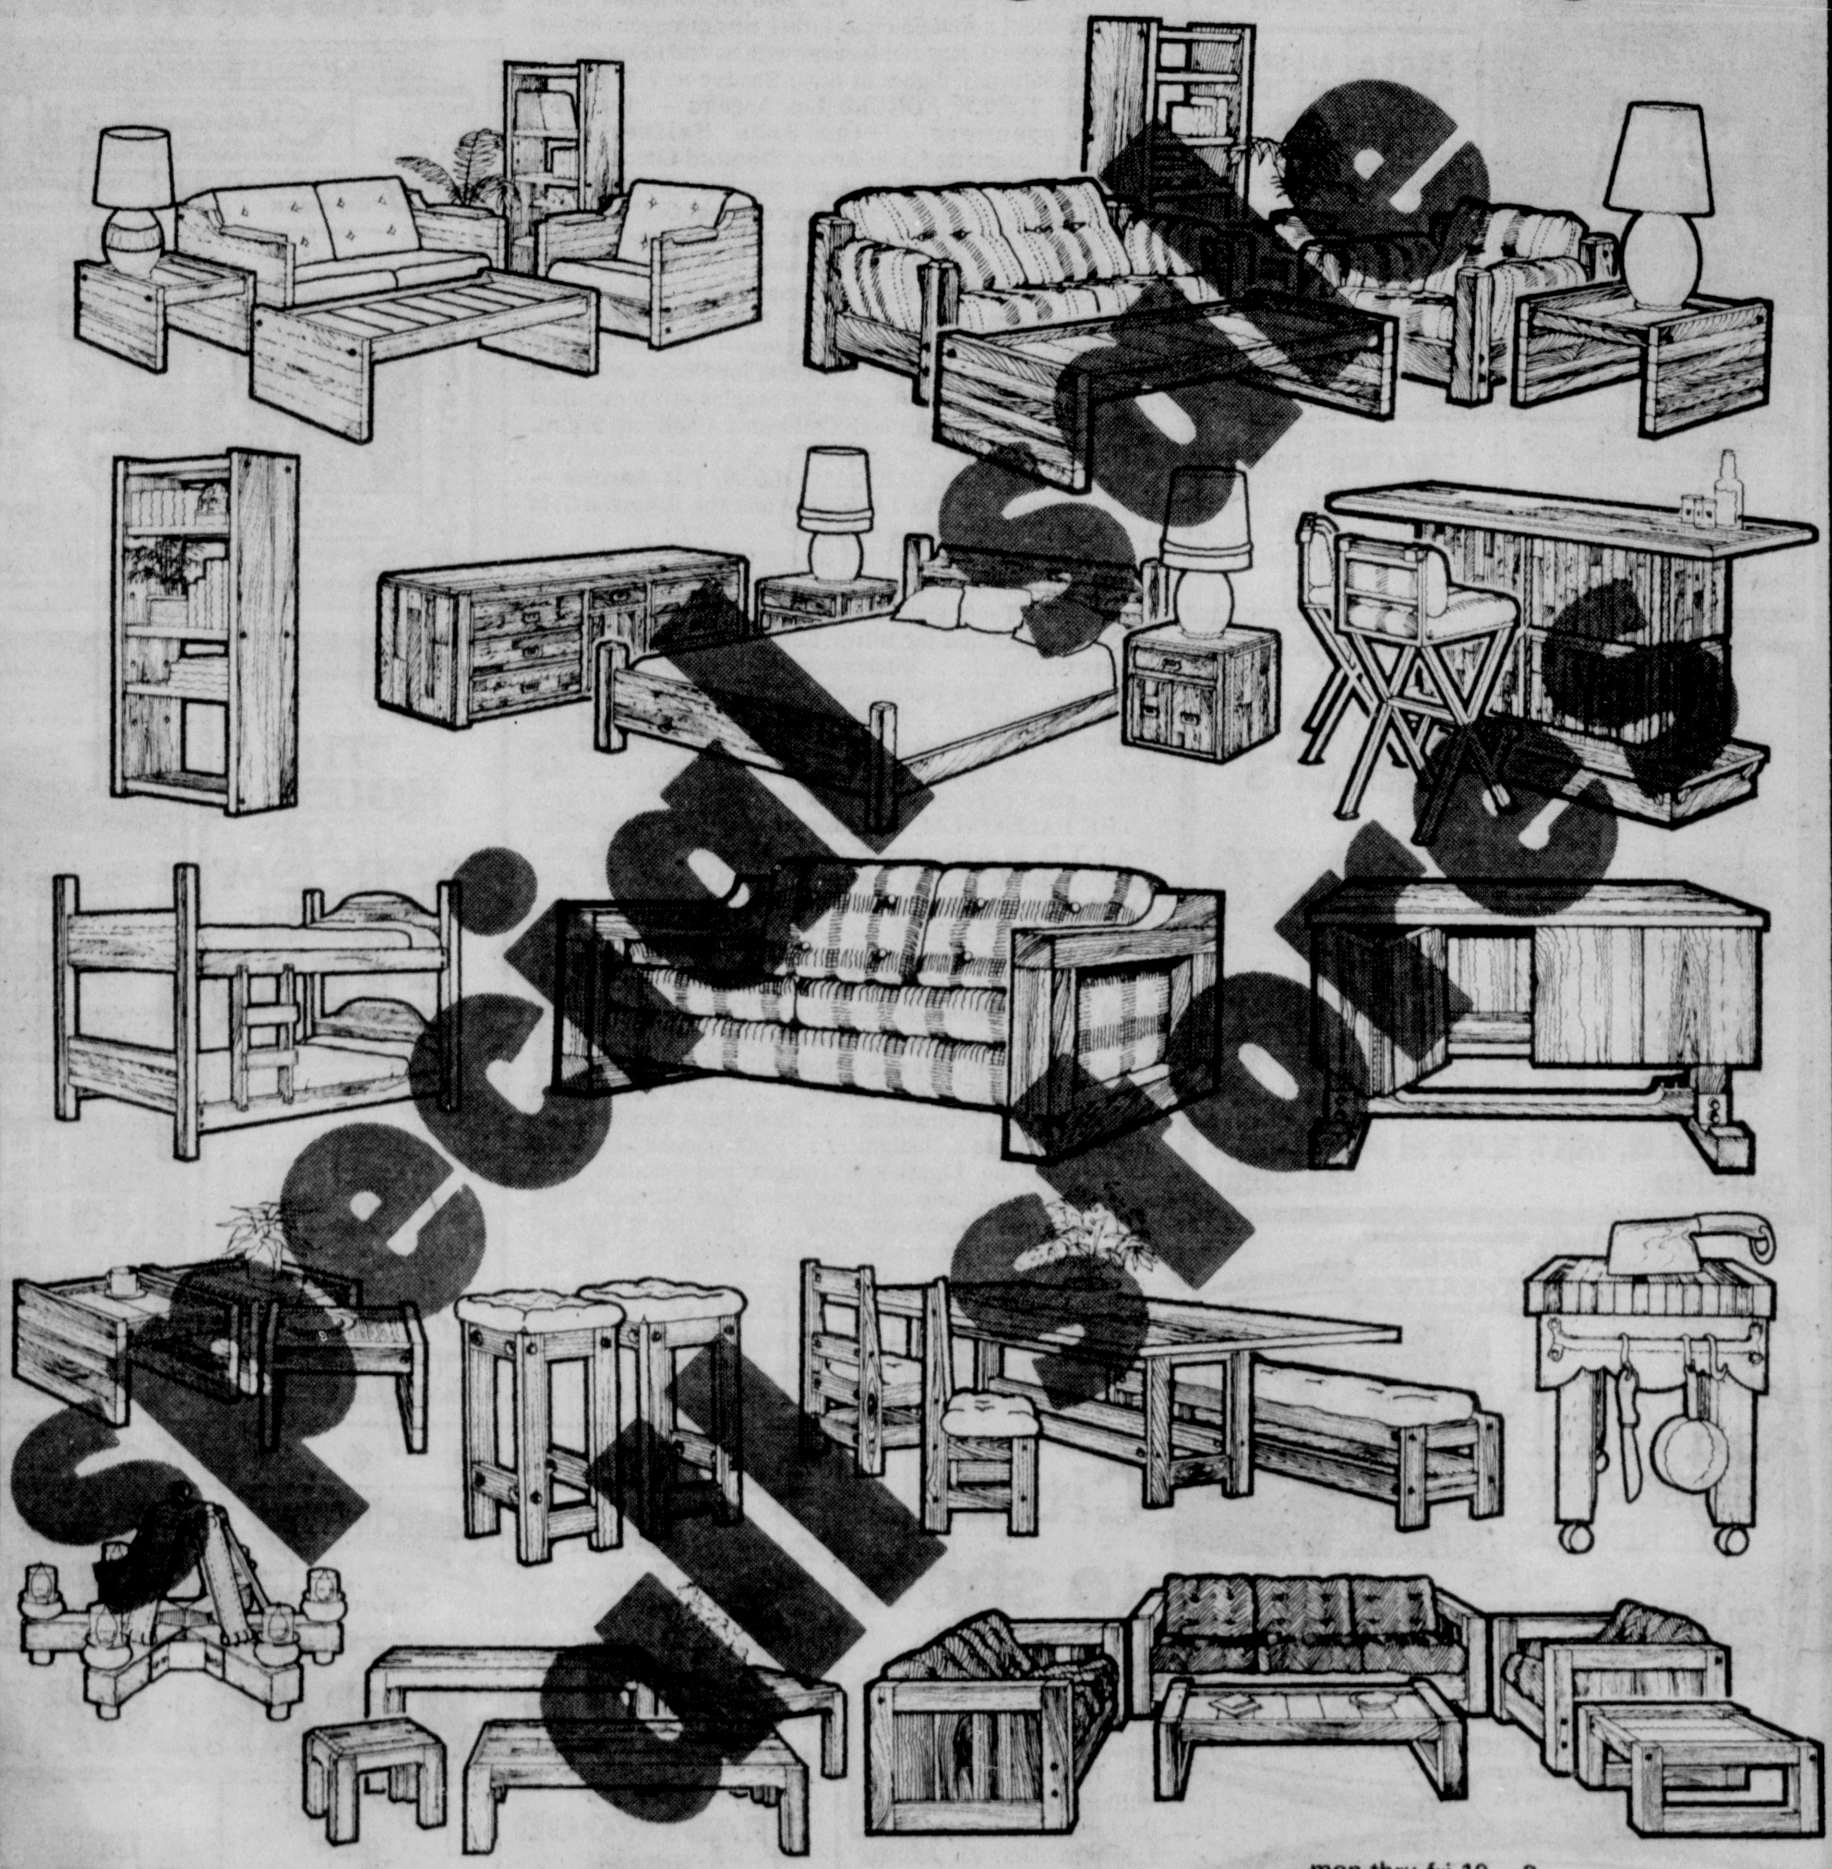

The 90-minute color film deals with a group of English schoolboys, survivors of a plane crash on an uninhabited island during evacuation from war-threatened England. Without adult control, the boys regress into a savage, anarchic state.

Much of Golding's novel is retained intact in the film version by director-producer Peter Brook.

The movie is one of the Library Classic Films series. Additional information can be obtained at 599-8339, Ext. 290.
